

ESTABLISHED 1878

LOWELL, MASS. MONDAY, JUNE 20, 1910

PRICE ONE CENT

BODY IS LOCATED

Remains of Chas. A. Taylor Will be Brought to Lowell

After a search covering many years, the resting place of the bones of Charles A. Taylor, a soldier of the Sixth Massachusetts regiment, said to have been the first man killed in the civil war, has been found, according to a despatch sent from Baltimore, Md., and tomorrow the remains will be sent to Binghamton and later will be brought to this city and buried beneath the Ladd & Whitney monument in that city.

Ladd, Whitney and Taylor fell during the riot which marked the passage of the Sixth regiment along Pratt street in that city on April 19, 1861.

After the riot Taylor's body was completely lost track of by his friends. The bodies of Ladd and Whitney were returned to this city and now lie beneath the Ladd & Whitney monument in Monument square.

The body of Taylor had not been found, though an unremitting search had been carried on for years. General Edwin F. Jones, commander of the Sixth regiment when it marched through Baltimore, has for years been personally interested in the search.

It was Gen. Jones, indeed, who was responsible for the beautiful tablet placed upon the Ladd and Whitney monument a year ago last Memorial day in memory of the missing comrade. The memorial was obtained through public subscription, though the movement was started by Gen. Jones.

The inscription on the tablet is as follows:

CHARLES A. TAYLOR
Co. D, 6th M. V. B.
The First to Fall in Defense of the Union
April 19, 1861.

"Nothing is here for tears, nothing to wait,
Or kneel the breast, no weakness, no contempt,
Dispraise of blame, nothing but well and fair,
And what may quiet us in a death so noble."

Some time ago, as a last resort, advertisements were inserted in Baltimore papers, one of which was seen by Samuel F. Glenn of that city, who pointed out Taylor's grave in the Methodist cemetery at LaFayette street and Loney's lane, Baltimore. A board at the head of the grave bears the time dimmed inscription, "A soldier of the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment, killed in riot."

This inscription is considered ample identification, for the bodies of all three of the others killed at the same time have long since been identified.

THE GRADUATING CLASS OF ST. PATRICK'S BOYS' ACADEMY

The annual distribution of diplomas and certificates to the graduates of St. Patrick's Boys' and Girls' schools took place at high mass yesterday before a large congregation. The presentation was made by Rev. William O'Brien, P. R., Bro. Osmund, principal of the boys' school, calling the names of the graduates.

The celebrant of the mass was Rev. John J. McNeill, and the choir, directed by Mr. Michael J. Johnson, sang special music for the occasion. The sanctuary choir of 60 voices assisted in the musical program as well as in the responses of the mass. The sermon was preached by Rev. Timothy Callahan. At its conclusion he took occasion to compliment the graduates on the completion of their studies, and the teachers of both on their work of the year, in giving to the young people a proper Catholic training.

The graduates of the boys' school were: James A. Mahoney, John A. O'Brien, Frederick Knerrick, John L. Healey, Raymond R. Lynch, Eugene A. Dean, John L. Hamill, John S. Armstrong, John J. Keefe, Frederick McCull,

James S. McNally, Patrick O'Hearn and John P. Flannery. Special archdiocesan certificates, awarded by His Grace Archbishop O'Connell, were presented to James A. Mahoney and John A. O'Brien.

The pupils of the girls' school to receive diplomas were Catherine J. Egan, Catherine J. Beane, Mary C. Sullivan and Helen Whelan.

MISSION CLOSED

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT ST. ANTHONY'S CHURCH YESTERDAY

At St. Anthony's church yesterday the mission conducted by the Franciscan fathers came to a close with large attendances, after a successful week.

At the high mass yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock a statue of St. John the Baptist was placed within the sanctuary and was blessed by Rev. Joachim V. Rosa, pastor of the church, who also celebrated the mass. The sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. Molin, O. M. F. The statue is presented by the new Portuguese Benevolent society, called St. John the Baptist, which was instituted locally about a year ago. It is four feet and a half in height. The members of the society attended the mass in a body.

SCHOOL WORK

BEAUTIFUL DISPLAY AT IMMACULATE CONCEPTION SCHOOL

The display of the school work during the year, in drawing, writing and sewing, was on exhibition yesterday from early morning until night, at the Immaculate Conception school, and was examined by hundreds of persons, many among them being the teachers of several of our public schools, who were loud in their praises of the work accomplished.

The teachers deserve great praise and congratulations for the result of their labor, which must have been constant and very arduous.

Next Friday evening, in the school hall, will take place the commencement and graduation exercises, on which occasion the parents will again be much pleased with the result of their children's work.

CAPT. REILLY TO WED

BROCKTON, June 20.—The marriage of Bernard E. Reilly, former Andover and Yale baseball player and more recently a member of the Chicago American league team, and Miss Mary Rose Murphy, both of this city, will take place this evening. Mr. Reilly captured the Andover team in 1905 and 1907, and was captain of the Yale freshman nine in 1908, after which he became professional, playing with the Hartford (New England league) club. The wedding will be solemnized at the parsonage of St. Peter's church. The best man will be James A. Reilly, captain of the Yale freshman baseball nine and a brother of the groom. Another brother, John Reilly, captain of next year's Andover nine, will be one of the ushers. Twin sisters of the bride, Misses Agnes and Martha Murphy, will be bridesmaids.

WILLIAMS COMMENCEMENT

WILLIAMSTOWN, June 20.—Today's program of festivities in connection with commencement week furnished plenty of diversion for Williams college students and alumni. During the forenoon a meeting of the board of trustees was held in Griffin hall.

Drama, athletics, oratory and music made up the undergraduate part of the day's program. In the forenoon the Cap and Bellis, the college dramatic society, presented its play, "Mr. Hopkins" in the Opera house. The baseball game with Amherst, postponed from Saturday, was played in the afternoon.

Mr. Leo D. Calnan, who was appointed to a position by the government at Washington, D. C., left for that place Saturday. Before leaving he was presented a handsome traveling bag at his home on Forest street by his young men friends. A social time was enjoyed while refreshments were served. John Salmon of Putnam & Sons made the presentation speech.

DEATHS

MAHAN—Mrs. Catherine Mahan died Saturday at her home, 70 Agawam street. She leaves one daughter, Sister Mary Scholastica of Westford college, Ramsgate, England, and two sisters, Mrs. Ellen Conway and Miss Margaret Markham, both of this city.

CLAWSEN—Elsie Clawson, aged six years, daughter of Ernest and Ada Clawson, died yesterday at St. John's hospital. The body was taken to her home, corner of Church and Princeton streets, North Chelmsford, by Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

BURNAP—Mrs. Rilla Woods Burnap, who died at midnight on Saturday, June 19, 1910, at her home, 215 Fayette street, was born July 19, 1831, and was, therefore, at the time of her death, aged 78 years and 11 months. She came to Lowell when a girl, and was educated in the public schools, and became a successful teacher, remaining in school over ten years.

On Oct. 10, 1867, she was married to Frederick A. Burnap and with him removed to Jersey City, N. J.

About 14 years ago Mr. and Mrs. Burnap returned to Lowell, and for nearly that length of time they made their home with their daughter, Mrs. J. E. Gibson.

Mrs. Burnap's sudden death in November, 1906, followed within four days by that of her favorite and much loved grandchild was a severe shock to Mrs. Burnap, but her clear Christian faith sustained her in all her sorrow.

She was a member of the First Congregational church of Jersey City, and by her well ordered life and conversation showed herself a consistent Christian of lovely character, whose strength of purpose and sweet personality were an inspiration to all who were privileged to know her.

McQUADE—Mrs. Rose McQuade, widow of the late Frank McQuade, died Sunday morning at her home, 215 Fayette street. She leaves one son, Charles, and two daughters, Mary and Rose, and five grandchildren.

LYNCH—Daniel Lynch, a well known resident of Lowell and an old member of St. Peter's parish, died this morning at his home, 26 Keene street. He leaves to mourn his loss two sons, Michael E. and Stephen E., and three daughters, the Misses Mary A. and Nellie F. Lynch and Mrs. John Buckley of Lawrence, Mass. He was a member of the Holy Name society of St. Peter's parish. Mr. Lynch formerly lived in Taunton, Mass., before coming to Lowell. Taunton and Lawrence papers please copy.

McDONALD—Mrs. Georgianna McDonald, wife of Thomas J. McDonald, died this morning at a brief illness at her home, 820 Broadway. She leaves besides her husband, a mother, two sisters, Miss Frances Kenney and Mrs. Elizabeth McCashin, three brothers, Paul, Frank and William Kenney.

The Canadian Line Steamer Saxonia sails from East Boston next Tuesday for Queenstown and Liverpool, having on board the following Lowell people booked through Murphy's ticket agency: Mr. John McDonnell, Miss Nellie Casey, Mr. Robert Erdis, Mr. David Erdis, Mr. Patrick J. Conroy, Mr. Malachuk Crug, Mr. Samuel Aronson, Miss Annie Farley, Miss Catherine McAlone, Miss Katie Scanlon, Miss Catherine Tooley, Miss Katherine Hannon, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Powers, Miss Lillian Powers, Miss Mary O'Garra, Miss Annie Mahone and Miss Jennie Martin.

On the Allan line steamer Numidian for Glasgow next Friday Mr. William Brown, Mr. Peter Stevenson and Mr. Horace B. Hoyle.

IF IT'S RIGHT WE HAVE IT

Twelve years buying and selling safety razors enables us to select from the many new shaving devices only those that are practical. Our latest addition is the Leslie safety razor and Shirl Stroppe, the latter being a most ingenious arrangement that shaves the blades better than the most expert cutter. Will be pleased to show it to all, whether purchasing or not. We carry the Gillette, Gem, Gem Junior, Ever Ready, Razine and Auto Strip, also blades and parts of same. Howard the Druggist, 137 Central street.

FUNERALS

CAMPBELL—The funeral of Miss Agnes E. Campbell took place Sunday from her home, 26 Robinson street, Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott officiating. There was singing by Miss Esther Glenn and Warren T. Reid. IN POLICE COURT

Another Assault Case
From Mill Strike

Apostolos Pappas, one of the Merrimack mill strikers, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault and battery on Pierre Arseneault, one of the operatives who refused to quit work when the strike was declared. He entered a plea of not guilty, denying that he knew anything about the assault. He tried to prove an alibi, but was unsuccessful and at the conclusion of the case was found guilty, but at the request of Major E. J. Noyes, who conducted the case for the government, sentence was deferred until tomorrow morning. Pappas was without counsel.

Arseneault, the complainant, was the first witness for the government. He testified that both he and his wife are employed in the Merrimack mills and last Wednesday morning about 6:20 o'clock, while they were passing through Dutton street, the defendant stepped out of the narrow passageway through which the railroad tracks run parallel with Moody street. Pappas tried to get into conversation with him, but he refused and kept walking down the street, whereupon Pappas struck him in the head and then kicked him.

Witness in answer to questions put to him said that there was a strike in progress, but that he had refused to quit work when the others went out.

Mrs. Arseneault, wife of the complainant, was the next witness and her testimony was in corroboration of that offered by her husband.

Josephine Desautels, also employed by the Merrimack, said that on the morning in question when she was going to work she was struck by a man and reported the matter to Major Noyes. At the latter's request she walked back through the streets in the vicinity of the mill in an attempt to locate her assailant. She said that it was while she was looking for the man who struck her that she saw Pappas kick Arseneault.

Arthur Smith, who lives at 27 Dutton street, said that he was looking from the window of his house when he saw the defendant assault the complainant.

The court, after summing up the evidence in the case, found the defendant guilty, but deferred sentence until tomorrow, owing to the fact that there is a second case of assault and battery against him. It being alleged that he assaulted Ephren Rondeau, a boy about 14 years of age.

Pappas was held under $500 for appearance before the court tomorrow morning.

Stole Cherries

Arthur Bouchard, aged 17 years, was charged with the larceny of cherries, property of Frederick J. Boynton, who lives at 27 Dutton street. He entered a plea of guilty and after being found guilty a fine of $15 was imposed. The fine must be paid within three days or Bouchard will go to jail for a month.

Bouchard and several other young men in passing the Boynton house yesterday afternoon decided to help themselves to some of the cherries on the trees. While they were busily engaged in filling their pockets Captain Thomas Atkinson, of the police department, who lives nearby, saw them and gave chase. The youngsters gave him a merry chase, but he succeeded in catching Bouchard.

Withdraw His Appeal

Daniel J. Farrell, who was recently found guilty of being drunk, sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory and appealed, came into court this morning and withdrew his appeal.

Placed on Probation

John Meehan was charged with neglecting to provide for his wife and at the conclusion of the case Judge Hadley turned the matter over to Probation Officer Slatery.

Drunken Offenders

Fred M. Billings, drunk, was given a suspended sentence of six months in jail, and Joseph P. Lamothe was given a suspended sentence of three months at the same institution.

Thomas Barrett and Peter Maloney were fined $2 each, Sarah A. Callahan and Peter Fedella, Sunday drunks, were fined $2 each. There were two first offenders, who were fined $2 each, and nine simple drunks were released.

LIQUOR SEIZURES

Two Made by Liquor
Squad Yesterday

Sergeant Alexander Duncan and Inspector William H. Grady, of the liquor squad, made two seizures of liquor yesterday morning.

They visited the house of Louis Pours at 462 Adams street, corner of Market street, where a small quantity of beer and whiskey was taken.

The restaurant of Joseph Lescaubeau at the corner of Aiken and Cheever streets was also visited and after a careful search of the premises a quantity of whiskey was found. The cases will be called in court during the week, when Pours and Lescaubeau will each be charged with the illegal keeping of liquor.

MAN INDICTED

On Charge of Larceny and Arrested

Angelos Diamantopoulos was arrested by Inspector John Regis this morning on a capias issued by the superior court on a charge of larceny. He was taken to the police station where he was booked and will later appear in court. He was a collector or agent for a local insurance company.

HE IS AFTER WALSH HUNTING EXPEDITION

U. S. District Attorney Trying to Whitney and Party Sail for the Arctic Region Locate Alleged Faro Man

BOSTON, June 20.—"There isn't a word of truth in them," said U. S. Dist. Atty. Asa F. French last evening to a reporter who asked him concerning the correctness of published stories that he intends to have several Boston bankers before the federal grand jury at a special sitting this week to consider the operations of the faro gang. "I shall continue by investigations," he said, "but at present I cannot say what I will do, for I have no definite plans. Such stories are entirely without foundation. At present I have no intention of causing the wholesale arrests, in this case, which have been suggested in the stories in some of the newspapers."

"Martin J. Walsh is the man I am after now and I shall not rest until he has been arrested and prosecuted. We have heard from him all over the world. We do not know where he is at present, but we will find him."

It has been common report that several well known bankers, business, professional men and some politicians were taken in by members of the faro gang and fleeced of thousands of dollars. Many of these men have denied that they ever knew any of the members of the gang or that they ever were fleeced by the sharpers. They would be most unwilling witnesses and for this reason it would possibly be useless to call them before the grand jury.

Francis J. Wood, the grocer friend of William J. Keilher, who is charged with perjury, was given a hearing at 10 o'clock this morning before U. S. Commissioner Hayes. Keilher has not yet been able to secure bondsmen. He spent a quiet day at the Charles street jail yesterday and was not permitted to receive visitors. His meals were sent in to him from a hotel, and he ate heartily, smoked almost continuously and late in the afternoon had a long sleep.

Keilher's friends are finding it difficult to meet the bail requirement of not less than three and not more than six men who can qualify each in the sum of $50,000 unencumbered real estate. The federal authorities are not yet willing to accept a bonding company as surely and in case they do the bonding company may ask to be secured.

While Keilher is hopeful of success many of his friends fear he will be obliged to remain in jail until his case is finally disposed of next fall. Keilher is cheerful at times though as a rule he is cheerful.

U. S. Dist. Atty. French said last night that he has not yet been approached by Keilher's counsel and friends in the matter of offering bail for the prisoner.

BOSTON, June 20.—Her hold filled with trinkets for Igloo dwellers of the Frozen North and cabins decorated with big game guns and an abundance of ammunition, the steamship Beothic, chartered by Harry Whitney of New Haven, Conn., and Paul J. Rainey, of Cleveland, O., for a hunting expedition in the Arctic, sailed from Pier No. 2 of the New Haven docks in South Boston yesterday.

The ship was flying and whistles saluted from most of the craft in the harbor as the Beothic swung into the channel under the command of Capt. Bartlett, who made the trip with Peary. Others on board were Dr. Johnson of Lexington, and Hugh M. Luskham, of New York.

A party of New York and Boston society folk were on the pier to see the sportsmen off.

The Beothic is chartered in the name of Mr. Rainey and the expedition is called the Rainey hunting expedition. Speculation as to whether Mr. Whitney would recover Dr. Cook's records at Etah remained unsatisfied by the last word of Captain Bartlett who said, with a smile, "We probably will not bother to take the time to hunt up Cook's records."

The crew is a seasoned one in the Arctic and the ship is clothed with two-inch steel plates to withstand the ice pressures. An immense quantity of supplies had been put aboard for trading with the natives and for the consumption of the sportsmen and crew. Among the supplies were 20 barrels of sugar, 10 barrels of corn meal and 400 pounds of tobacco.

Clearance papers were taken out for North Sydney, C. B., where the Beothic will take on bunker coal.

Unknown Man Dead at Worcester Hospital Held by the Hatch Co. Saturday

HAD TIES BOUGHT AT GILBRIDE'S STORE

Was Injured in Railroad Yard and Did Not Recover Consciousness—About 50 Years Old

An unknown man died at the City hospital at Worcester last night and the police of that city are of the opinion that the man may belong in Lowell owing to the fact that found in the dead man's pockets were ties which bear the name of a Lowell firm. The man was found lying in the Worcester railroad yards Saturday, unconscious and injured. He was removed to the City hospital and died without regaining consciousness, so that no facts concerning his identity or the accident in which he was hurt could be obtained.

The body is that of a man about 50 years of age, some 5 feet 3 inches tall, with iron gray hair and long reddish mustache, and blue eyes. The nose is large and slightly twisted to the right.

The man wore a suit of black and white and a black and white necktie. In a bundle which he had near him when found were two ties bought at Gilbride's department store of this city. There were also two blue shirts in the bundle, and two ties bought from a furniture named Currier whose location is however, unknown. Two pairs of glasses in one of the pockets.

FIRST BALLOON OF GLIDDEN ASCENSION TO GO UP WEDNESDAY

The first balloon ascension of the season from this city will be held next Wednesday afternoon, about four o'clock, that is if the weather permits. It is expected that during the summer months there will be two ascensions a week from the yard of the Lowell Gas Light Co. in School street.

Wednesday's ascension will be in the big balloon "Massachusetts" and the pilot will be Charles J. Glidden. Accompanying him will be John J. Van Vollenburgh of South Framingham. The latter is qualifying as an international pilot and Wednesday's trip will be his third one. The third passenger will be A. Brown, city editor of the Boston Journal.

J. B. Benton, city editor of the Boston Transcript, and J. Walter Flagg of Worcester, both of them licensed pilots, will take up a party of friends later in the week.

It is expected that the prevailing winds here at this time of year will be somewhere from the south, a point which favors flights into New Hampshire. As long as the wind is somewhere from the south, everything will be well. West or northwest winds must be avoided by the aeronauts, however, lest they be blown toward the ocean and out to sea.

It is calculated that a flight of about three hours may be made from this city for some 50 or 60 miles into New Hampshire.

HERMIT'S WILL To be Fought by Brother and Nephews

CHESHIRE, Conn., June 20.—Notice of a contest over the will of Joseph Hull, 93 years old, who has lived the life of a hermit for the greater portion of the time and who at his death bequeathed $100,000 to the Baptist association of Connecticut, has been filed in the probate court here by a brother and nephew.

In the Hull home, inside of which no one had been for years, were found two wills, one so old that it was falling to pieces and the second and later one, in which the Baptist association was made beneficiary.

Under the floor were found two bags, each containing $200 in gold and a number of mortgage notes, dating back so far that the givers in most cases are dead. There was also found a number of savings bank books, the latest of the deposits of which had not been gotten for 50 years or more. A stubborn contest is looked for.

Unknown Man Dead at Worcester Hospital Held by the Hatch Co. Saturday

HAD TIES BOUGHT AT GILBRIDE'S STORE

Was Injured in Railroad Yard and Did Not Recover Consciousness—About 50 Years Old

An unknown man died at the City hospital at Worcester last night and the police of that city are of the opinion that the man may belong in Lowell owing to the fact that found in the dead man's pockets were ties which bear the name of a Lowell firm. The man was found lying in the Worcester railroad yards Saturday, unconscious and injured. He was removed to the City hospital and died without regaining consciousness, so that no facts concerning his identity or the accident in which he was hurt could be obtained.

The body is that of a man about 50 years of age, some 5 feet 3 inches tall, with iron gray hair and long reddish mustache, and blue eyes. The nose is large and slightly twisted to the right.

The man wore a suit of black and white and a black and white necktie. In a bundle which he had near him when found were two ties bought at Gilbride's department store of this city. There were also two blue shirts in the bundle, and two ties bought from a furniture named Currier whose location is however, unknown. Two pairs of glasses in one of the pockets.

FIRST BALLOON OF GLIDDEN ASCENSION TO GO UP WEDNESDAY

The first balloon ascension of the season from this city will be held next Wednesday afternoon, about four o'clock, that is if the weather permits. It is expected that during the summer months there will be two ascensions a week from the yard of the Lowell Gas Light Co. in School street.

Wednesday's ascension will be in the big balloon "Massachusetts" and the pilot will be Charles J. Glidden. Accompanying him will be John J. Van Vollenburgh of South Framingham. The latter is qualifying as an international pilot and Wednesday's trip will be his third one. The third passenger will be A. Brown, city editor of the Boston Journal.

J. B. Benton, city editor of the Boston Transcript, and J. Walter Flagg of Worcester, both of them licensed pilots, will take up a party of friends later in the week.

It is expected that the prevailing winds here at this time of year will be somewhere from the south, a point which favors flights into New Hampshire. As long as the wind is somewhere from the south, everything will be well. West or northwest winds must be avoided by the aeronauts, however, lest they be blown toward the ocean and out to sea.

It is calculated that a flight of about three hours may be made from this city for some 50 or 60 miles into New Hampshire.

THE BUTLER CUP SKETCH OF COL. ROOSEVELT REPLYING TO MAYOR GAYNOR'S SPEECH

Won By Sons of St. George

(Photos by American Press Association.)

By defeating the Manchester United Odd Fellows at cricket Saturday. Waverly lodge, Sons of St. George, became the owner of the handsome silver loving cup presented by Cong. Butler Ames a few years ago. The first year the cup was won by the Sons of St. George, but last year matters were reversed and the Odd Fellows captured the trophy. Saturday's game was the deciding one and the Sons of St. George won the contest by a score of 63 to 59, the winning team having lost but three wickets.

The game was played on the Bunting crease and the feature was the batting of David Hird who scored 33 runs and was "not out" when the game was called.

At the conclusion of the match President George Bmsley of the Merrimack Valley League presented the cup to Capt. David Hird of the Sons, while each member of the winning team was given a gold mounted French briar pipe.

Owing to the inclement weather the long list of sports suffered considerably and the midway which usually adds to the delight of the afternoon lost much of its splendor.

One of the most interesting of the sports was the running race for men over 50, won by Peter Caddell in regular professional time.

The score of the cricket game:

REPLY TO PROTEST

WASHINGTON, June 20.—President Madrid, of Nicaragua, has drawn from this government a sharp reply to the protest he made to President Taft that the United States prolonged the war in the little republic because this government refused to allow a bombardment of Bluefields or to allow the Venues to maintain a blockade there.

Consul Olivares at Managua has been furnished with a statement the consul has been directed to hand to Madrid. It observes that if any violation of neutrality has occurred it was when the Venues sailed from New Orleans on an expedition of the Madrid faction. Madrid protested not to the United States alone, but to all the South American and Central American republics.

WON BOTH GAMES

Lowell Played Great Ball Before Great Crowd

But for the heavy downpour of rain Saturday there would have been 5000 baseball fans at Spalding park to witness the double header between Lowell and Worcester, but as it was there were 3500 in attendance when the first game started and for over a half an hour afterwards the enthusiasts were crowding into the grounds all trying to seek points of vantage to witness the game.

Many people were of the opinion that neither game would be played, but word was telephoned in from the grounds that there would be at least one game and later it was announced that the double header would be carried out if darkness did not interfere. This announcement caused those who thought that there would be no game to hurry to the grounds.

The most enthusiastic gang of fans at the game were the two car loads of rooters who came up from Lawrence. At times they shouted for Lowell and then shifted over and cheered for the Burckett gang.

From one o'clock until the time the first game was started four men were busily engaged in removing the puddles of water from the grounds and even though the grounds were not in the best of condition when the first game was called it was much better than any person thought it could be made.

Present at the game was the Middlesex County Training School band, which rendered pleasing selections prior to the game and between the innings.

Lowell's lineup was practically the same as it was the last time the home team played, the only exception being Tyler, who was in the points. Keady, coach for Dartmouth college, made his first appearance with the Worcester aggregation and King, a former member of the Brooklyn National team, was covering the position between second and third bases for the visitors.

Empire Tom Duffy was the decision maker and he called the first game at three o'clock, the batting order of the teams being as follows:

First Inning
The home team started out with a rush in the first inning and scored three runs, while the visitors failed to send a man across the plate.

The visitors as usual went to bat first and Page hit to Boules and died at first. Crum died to Flaherty and Haas followed with a single. Anthony hit a grounder to Tenney and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Fitzpatrick drew a free pass and he went to second on Tenney's single. Cooney bunted to Keady and the latter threw bad to third to get Fitz and all three were safe. Flaherty singled to centre field and Fitz traveled home. Magee fouled to Keady; Blakely drew a free pass forcing in Tenney for the second run. Cooney singled to left field, Cooney scoring. Flaherty tried to score but was nailed at the plate. Boules and Blakely tried a double steal and Blakely was thrown out at the plate.

Score—Lowell 3, Worcester 0.

Second Inning
There was nothing doing in the second inning. Russell foul flied to Magee and King followed with a single, but McDermott flied to Flaherty and McCune hit to Boules and was out at first.

To Lowell's half Sullivan died to Crum. Tyler hit to Keady and died at first. Fitz singled to left field and Tenney hit to Keady and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 3, Worcester 0.

Third Inning
Fitz were two more goose eggs

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

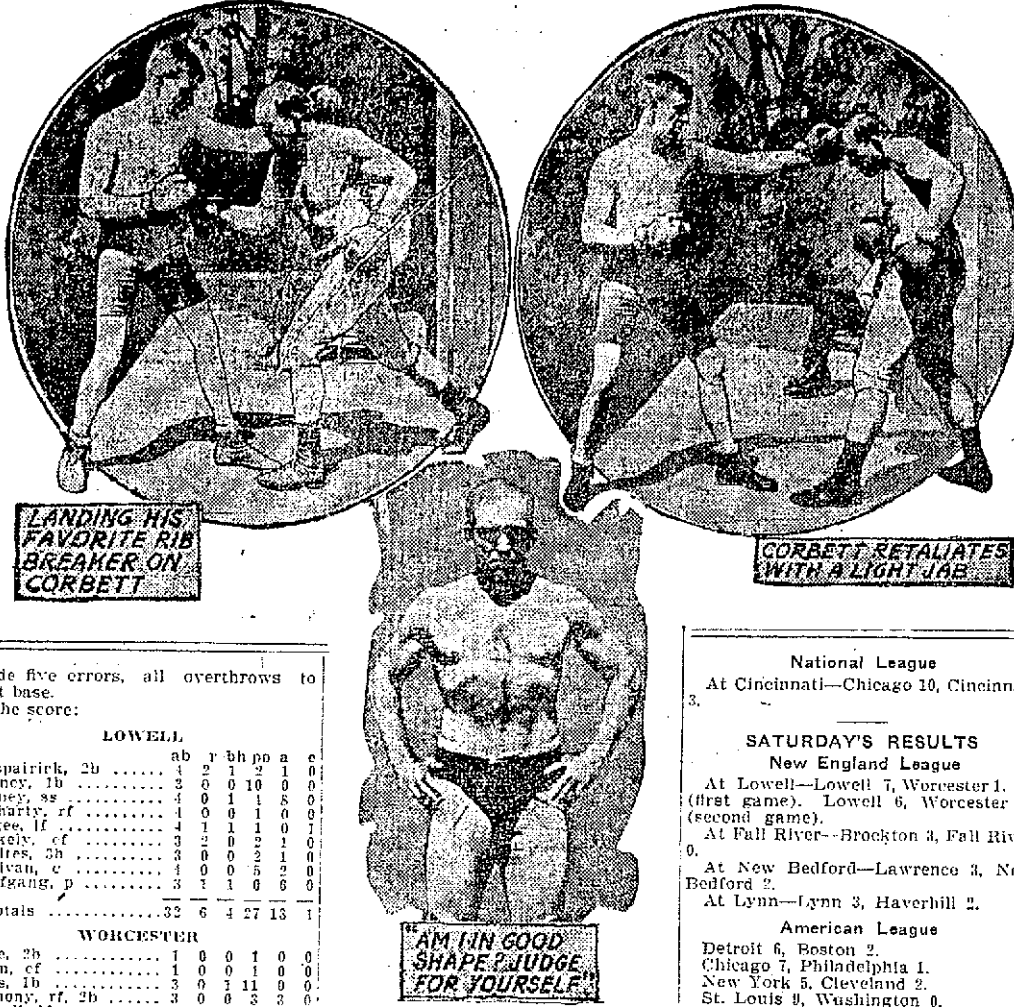

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her

Knoxville, Iowa. — "I suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more and was weak and nervous that I could not do my work. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and am glad to say that these medicines have done more for me than anything else and I had the best physicians here. I can do my work and rest well at night. I believe there is nothing like the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. CLARA PHANUS, R.F.D. No. 3, Knoxville, Iowa.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacement, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

DIAMOND NOTES

Double header at Haverhill today.

The second game was spoiled by the action of Burckett and his players.

It was Tom Keady's first appearance this season. He has been coaching Dartmouth this season with great success.

While Jesse Burckett used all kinds of vulgarities toward Empire Duffy the following conversation took place between Tom Keady and Fitz Page, the latter having been chased off the grounds by the umpire: "You should get yourself in bad with the umpire, Bill," said Keady. "I didn't say anything bad to him," answered Page. "Well, you must have said something or he wouldn't have chased you off the grounds," replied Keady. "And it's all foolishness to get in trouble with umpires. They have the power and they can hang a fine on you whenever they want to and you have to pay it. You can bet no umpire will get any of my money this year because I won't talk back to any of them. Furthermore, it hurts the game. With you off second base we've crippled and then again the crowd gets sore on a player who fights the umpire and they make life miserable for him." Keady is a college ball player and some people are inclined to scoff at college players. But if college did nothing else for Keady it taught him to be a gentleman, which in itself was worth the time and money expended on his education.

"Whiskers" Van Dyke, Worcester's new pitcher, didn't look so bad on the slab. He's built a la Van Dyke and has no difficulty dodging the rain drops.

Burckett hated to play that second game and with most any other umpire could have carried his point. Empire Duffy would have finished that game if they had to play by candle light.

Empire Duffy was up against it but he umpired a good game nevertheless. He received a foul tip on the forehead in the second game that rendered him groggy for a few moments.

The Training school band with Director Jim Larkin waving the baton gave a most acceptable program between the innings. They got the crowd going when they tore off "Turkey in the straw." Even Tenney with his bad pedal shook himself a little.

After the game Burckett made the following speech: "You've got quite a team up here, and it's up to you people to appreciate it. Lowell's got it on us, but that isn't saying that Lowell will finish ahead of us. We simply can't seem to strike our gait while playing with Lowell."

Perhaps Cooney didn't show some class Saturday. In the first game he got three hits while in the second he had 12 chances without an error.

Worcester has the King of shortstops. He made his first appearance in Saturday's game. Before the game started Jesse said: "I got him from Brooklyn. I don't know whether he's any good or not." King made five overthrows in the second game.

Tenney saved a few errors by rathering in bad throws at first.

ROWARDENNAN, Cal. June 20.—

Jim Jeffries will continue his training here until notified that the scene of battle has been shifted. Although Gov. Gillett's action in ordering the big fight stopped spread considerable gloom over the training quarters here, the most unperturbed man in the camp is Jim Jeffries himself. The big fellow has taken the trouble much more philosophically than his friends had hoped. He is very angry that Gov. Gillett should have delayed taking his stand until after all arrangements had been made for the fight, but he is not talking about it. Jeff has notified Rickard that the one thing he asks now is that the fight be held on July 4. "If I fight in a closet I'll say the word set. That is only fair to everyone," Jeffries continues to do much boxing, and Jim Corbett says the big fellow is now on edge and with a little more sharpening up he will step into the ring ready to put up the battle of his career.

After looking Jack Johnson over, Billy Delaney has given out this interesting opinion: "Johnson will win to a moral certainty. He is in shape now. It needs just one hard week's training and will lick Jeffries as sure as the sun rises and sets. But I will not be surprised if the big fight does not come off. I know Jeffries well and he has always been afraid of Johnson. When I was Jeff's manager the mention of the heavy-swinging fight made him look ill. He never wanted to fight such a fight. He is not a fighter. His defence is absolutely perfect and Jeffries will find that he cannot break through it. I'll predict that the fight will not end quickly and that Johnson will knock Jeffries out in about thirty rounds. I'll be Johnson's chief second."

Jeffries looks well, but he can hardly be as good as he was six years ago. For that matter I don't believe that Jeffries at his best could have beaten this big black man. Just remember what I say now when the men begin fighting. Johnson is a wonderful fighter. He is one of the cleverest big men the world has ever seen. His defence is absolutely perfect and Jeffries will find that he cannot break through it. I'll predict that the fight will not end quickly and that Johnson will knock Jeffries out in about thirty rounds. I'll be Johnson's chief second."

COMMITTED SUICIDE SECRETARY KNOX

17 Year Old Girl Was a Resident of This City

BOSTON, June 20.—When Medical Examiner Leary called, at the request of a South end physician, at the lodging house, 1774 West Newton street, about 9 o'clock Saturday morning, he was informed by the landlady, Mrs. Evangelina Louise Rock, a widow, that a pretty, black-haired girl had killed herself by gas in a room on the fifth floor. The girl, Mrs. Rock said, was her cousin, Helen M. Shields, aged 17, formerly of Clinton and Lowell.

The death of the young woman, according to the medical examiner, seemed to have upset the landlady considerably. The latter said that she disliked the duty of informing the girl's mother that she was dead. She knew it would break her heart.

Dr. Leary ordered the body removed to the City hospital morgue, and returned to his office without informing the police of the suicide, because, he said, he pitied the girl and desired to make her death easier for her mother to hear by not giving it publicly.

Yesterday morning, after Dr. Leary had completed his autopsy on the body at the City hospital morgue, three women and four men appeared there. One of the women was Mrs. Rock, another was Mrs. Elizabeth Shields, the mother of the suicide, while the identity of the third woman was not learned by the morgue attendants. One of the men was George Shields, a brother of the dead girl; another was a relative by marriage. Who the other men were was not stated.

Mrs. Shields said she had been told that her daughter was wearing several rings when her body was taken from the house on West Newton street. A morgue employee produced the rings, a plain gold baby ring that the girl had worn from childhood, a heavy gold band ring, a gold ring set with pearls and amethysts that belonged to her sister, Margaret, before her death, and a gold ring containing a small diamond that Mrs. Rock claimed to have given Helen.

The mother said she would take the rings, and they were delivered to her. Then Mrs. Shields, according to the medical examiner and employees at the morgue, said she did not intend to claim the body of her daughter. "Let the city bury her," she said.

The mother's remark irritated Dr. Leary and he demanded that the rings be returned to him. Mrs. Shields passed them back and the party left the hospital, but not before Dr. Leary made it plain to them what his plans for today were.

The medical examiner went to the East Dedham street station and told Sgt. Munro the story of the death of the Shields girl. Detective Irwin and Patrolman Trainor were sent to the West Newton street lodging house, being instructed to claim anything that belonged to the girl. The doctor told the police it was his intention to report the case to the overseers of the poor today. He could not understand why relatives and friends who appeared prosperous should permit the girl's body to go to a pauper's grave.

A search showed that Miss Shields' personal belongings were few and of little value.

Mrs. Rock volunteered the information that within a year or two Mrs. Shields had buried two other daughters, who died suddenly. "It took money to bury them," she said. "I guess the woman cannot afford to bury this girl."

Mrs. Rock said the mother of the girl lives at 28 May street, Lowell, and that she has one daughter and two sons living.

"The girl was not really my cousin," said Mrs. Rock. "Back in the past both of us had ancestors that were blood relations. I regarded it that we were simply cousins by formality or courtesy." Is the way that Mrs. Rock expressed her relationship to the girl.

While she lived in the south end Miss Shields had several occupations. Once she was employed as a stenographer in South Boston and later in a lunch room on Milk street.

What Girl's Aunt Says

Miss Helen M. Shields was the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Shields, who lives at 28 May street, in this city. Mrs. Mary McDonald, of 28 May street, is her aunt. Mrs. Shields, mother of the young woman, has been rooming with her sister, Mrs. McDonald. Mrs. Shields was called to Boston Saturday by telephone by a report of her daughter's death and has not returned. Mrs. McDonald said she had not received any word from her sister since she left for Boston.

Mrs. McDonald said her niece did not visit at her house frequently and the news of her death was a great surprise. She said she was waiting the return of her sister to learn the cause of the girl's death.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Lakeview theatre opens its regular season tonight with that beautiful rural drama called "The Dairy Farm," from the pen of Eleanor Merion. This beautiful play has been played in New York for over 200 nights and has been pronounced by both press and public as being better than either "The Old Homestead" or "As Ye Sow."

Mr. James Thatcher, who is the leading man, was the original Quincy Adams Sawyer and has had a great deal of experience in stock work. Miss Florine Farr who will play opposite to Mr. Thatcher has been the leading

Has Decided to Remain in the Cabinet

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Definite announcement last night of the decision of Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania to remain in the cabinet as secretary of state during the remainder of Mr. Taft's term of office confirmed the intimations to the same effect received yesterday from Philadelphia.

Pennsylvania republicans who are here make no secret of their disappointment at Mr. Knox's yielding to the urgency of the president and at the dashing of their hopes that he would become their gubernatorial nominee this year. In a formal statement issued here last night, Mr. Knox declared that, provided the tender of the nomination had come to him as expressing the real desire of the party in Pennsylvania, he would have accepted the nomination, but for the request of the president that he remain in the cabinet.

It was made known late last night in an unmistakable way that the president regards Mr. Knox's decision as definitely refuting the rumors in circulation for some time to the effect that the secretary is not altogether happy in his position.

The president was reported as even anxious that the outcome should indicate beyond question that he regards Mr. Knox as a great lawyer and a great secretary of state. It was said Mr. Knox has played an important part in all of the important acts and policies of the administration.

Attention was called to Mr. Taft's studied policy of non-interference with the heads of the executive departments and it was pointed out that in every respect Mr. Knox's acts and decisions have had the unreserved support of the president. It was made plain that for every reason Mr. Taft regards the secretary's decision with more than ordinary satisfaction.

PERIN'S HIPPODROME

Another big bill is announced for this week, which started with a matinee this afternoon at Washington Park, and from the standard set by the management for the program of last week it seems that the limit has been reached in the excellence of the acts offered, but when you read the list for this week you will see that the high standard of the program presented for the first week is kept up.

The bill offered today includes many acts that are new and unique, among which are Klutzing's animals, showing dogs, rabbits, doves and pigeons in a pleasing and diversified act, showing how trainers can infuse into small dumb animals the knowledge of human affairs, Edwin George, the comedy jug-gler in side splitting and laughable feats, Little, Alright and company, in a novelty act direct from Japan, showing the kind of entertainment given in that flowery kingdom.

A big feature act for the week is Huber's Trained Bears, a group of five big beautiful black bears that perform all sorts of tricks, imaginable at the direction of their trainer, Madam Huber. One of the bears who is better known as Judy will during their act perform the Salome dance and she is said to be a scream in her grotesque movements.

Prof. DeNoto and his Genoa band will render new selections of popular and classic music being led by that eccentric leader, DeNoto himself, who in his one week's stay at the park has installed himself as a favorite with the people of our city.

The motion pictures will be seen in the evenings and are entirely new; also those funny clowns with Dan DuCrow in new stunts that will be laughable and uproariously comic.

The Hippodrome will give two performances daily, matinee 2.15 and nights at 8.15. Don't fail to attend and see for yourself the magnitude of the bills offered.

GRAND STEEPCHASE

PARIS, June 20.—The Grand Steeplechase de Paris, which was run yesterday over the Auteuil course, was won by C. G. Assheton-Smith's Jerry D. We Must Force the Sale

Previous to our buying the big bankrupt stock of the J. Brest Co., of Brockton, we had placed big orders at the New York Furniture Exposition for spring and early summer shipment of hundreds of Fancy Chairs and Rockers. Although there were hundreds in the Bankrupt stock we felt in honor bound to take all those we had ordered, as many of them were finished to our special order. Now then you may imagine the quantity of chairs we have in stock. Notwithstanding the great quantity we have sold we must sell many more. Our buildings are so crowded that we can't display our immense stock properly.

CONGRESS LEADERS

Expect That Adjournment Will Take Place Saturday

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Congress leaders confidently expect to wind up the business of the present session this week and adjourn not later than Saturday. If the session is carried beyond that time it will be because of the amendments to the general deficiency bill or complications may arise in connection with the "omnibus" public building bill. Some members look for adjournment as early as Thursday.

It is pointed out by republican leaders that there never has been a congress where a president has obtained the amount of legislation that has resulted from the demands of President Taft. Starting in with a demand for revision of the tariff he procured this at an extraordinary session. Then at the beginning of the present session he demanded legislation amendatory of the interstate commerce laws, enabling the president to pursue a forward conservation policy, admitting Arizona and New Mexico to statehood, creating postal savings banks and on the subject of the use of injunctions.

Bills on all these subjects except anti-injunction have passed both branches of congress. The anti-injunction measure will have to wait until next session, but it is said the prospects are good for its passage at that time.

All of the regular army supply bills have passed both houses except the general deficiency bill. That was passed by the house Saturday and will be reported to the senate not later than Tuesday. Unless there is trouble over a scheme for the retirement of superannuated employees of the government, its passage will not take more than one day.

The postal bank bill is still before the senate. It came from the house in the form of an amended bill and Sen. Carter moved that the senate concur in the house amendment. Opposition developed and the motion has been debated intermittently since the bill returned from the house. President Taft approves the house bill and it seems reasonably certain that the senate will accept it.

The rivers and harbors bill is waiting the president's signature and he will soon have the omnibus public building bill which reported to the house yesterday. With both of these measures before him, he is in position to command that action be taken on such remaining bills as he feels should be passed.

President Taft will sign the session bill today. In the last few days of this session there will be a flood of requests in both branches of congress for unanimous consent to take up measures of importance to the communities of the individual members. Many are deemed to be of importance, for neither branch of congress, as a whole, shows much patience in dealing with measures which have not commanded attention until adjournment is imminent.

POLICE OFFICERS

SAY THERE WAS ATTEMPTED MURDER AND SUICIDE

PORTLAND, Me., June 20.—An attempted murder and then suicide was the solution entertained by the police officers here yesterday as the result of the autopsy performed upon the body of Walter G. Hanscomb, who was found dead in a bed in the Bickford Hotel stable at Gorham Saturday with the unconscious form of Mrs. May Stewart beside him. The result of the autopsy therefore disposed of the theory that a third party may have been concerned in the tragedy.

Yesterday's autopsy disclosed the fact that Hanscomb's wound was caused by a pistol ball that passed through the heart and did not touch the brain, and that death did not ensue for some time after the shooting. Mrs. Stewart, who was shot in the head is still at the Maine general hospital in a critical condition. The woman had been separated from her husband for some time and had been on friendly terms, it is said, with Hanscomb. Hanscomb, who was a hostler, was a native of Rochester, N. H. The cause of the shooting is not known.

GLIDDEN TOUR CONTEST

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., June 20.—Nineteen contestants in the Glidden tour contest, accompanied by press cars and the officials, arrived yesterday afternoon between 12 and 1 o'clock. Two accidents occurred on the road from Little Rock. The Carter car, No. 105, broke the right rear axle a short distance from Little Rock and was disqualified. The Lexington car, No. 104, was also disqualified by breaking the frame. Both cars have ordered extra parts and will continue through the run to Chicago.

MURDER IS SUSPECTED

Gryce May Have Killed His Wife
and Child

LANCASTER, Pa., June 20.—J. C. Gryce, a member of the senior class of the Millersville Normal school and a resident of Sharpsburg, Md., was placed under arrest here last night on suspicion of having murdered his wife and two weeks' old baby. Gryce is 22 years old and his wife, who was Miss Ellen Dorsey, also of Sharpsburg, was 20 years old.

The couple had been boarding here and last Thursday evening Gryce hired a carriage, stating he was going to take his wife to the railway station to send her to her home. The last seen of the woman and the baby was when they entered the carriage. A storm was raging and neighbors expostulated against taking the woman out in such weather. Gryce said what he did was none of their business.

ROOSEVELT WEDDING

Many Valuable Gifts Received by Provides Faster Service Between the Young Couple Lowell and New York

NEW YORK, June 20.—Weather typical of the month of brides and roses attended the wedding day of Miss Eleanor Butler Alexander and Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., eldest son of ex-President Roosevelt, whose nuptials at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church today promised to furnish one of the most notable society events of the season. It seemed likely that the spacious edifice where the wedding was to take place would find its capacity taxed to accommodate the guests who had signified their intention to be present. Then the promised attendance of the groom's distinguished father, whose welcome home from abroad fired New York on Saturday so stimulated popular interest in the function that there was every promise of record throngs in the vicinity of the church edifice long before 4 o'clock, the hour set for the ceremony.

The church today was beautifully decorated with pink and white blossoms, roses, lilies of the valley and peonies predominating, and everything was in readiness for the ceremony to be performed by the Rev. Dr. Sanders, a great uncle of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Gordon Russell, of Cranford, N. J.

The arrangements included provision for a musical program while the guests were assembling and provided for the bride being given away in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Henry Addison Alexander. The bride's costume is of conventional white satin with point lace and orange blossoms. Her matron of honor is Mrs. Snowden Fahnestock, whose wedding took place on June 1, with Miss Alexander as a bridesmaid, while the bridesmaids of today are the Misses Harriet and Janetta Alexander, cousins of the bride, Miss Jean V. Delano and Miss Jessie Millington-Drake of Paris.

Kermit Roosevelt is his brother's best man and the ushers are John V. Cutler of Brookline, Mass., a classmate at Harvard of the bridegroom; Elliot Cutler, his brother; Milton Cutting, Grafton, Chapman, E. Morgan Gilbert, Francis Roche, George Emlen Roosevelt, Monroe Douglas Robinson and Hamilton Fish, Jr.

The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the home of Mrs. Alexander, the bride's uncle and aunt, the large ballroom of which was thought best suited for the accommodation of the large number of bridal guests. After the reception the young couple will go on their honeymoon to California and will spend some time there.

The bridal gifts were numerous and valuable.

The engagement of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Miss Alexander, was announced last February. The groom is 22 years of age and his bride 21.

FISHING PARTY

LOWELL MEN GETTING READY FOR THE FIRST OF SEASON

Harry Gonzales, Charlie McFarland, Jimmie Donohoe, Charlie Marren, Capt. Carr and their company of fishermen are preparing for their first deep sea fishing trip of the season. They have talked with Captain Peabody of Salem and have engaged his new boat "Elsemere" which he had built during the winter at a cost of $10,000 and when the Lowell parties go down to enjoy a few days' outing they will find the greatest boat that ever left the wharf. It is a twenty-five ton vessel with staterooms and water tank, and is the grandest of the vessels that leaves Salem harbor. Captain Peabody for years has piloted the Lowell parties who want deep sea fishing.

ANDOVER STREET

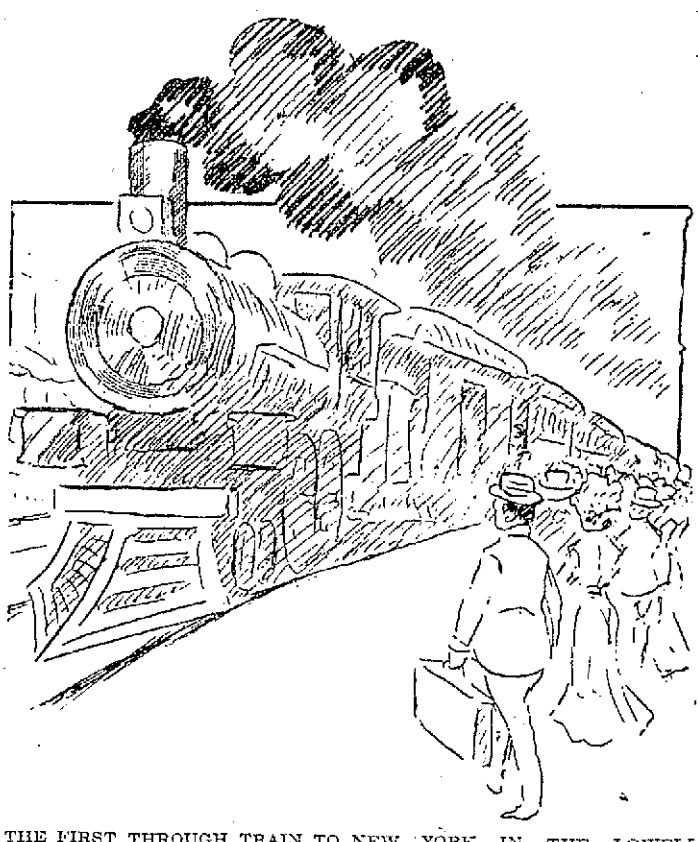

The county commissioners this morning gave a hearing at the court house relative to the matter of damages in widening Andover street at North Tewksbury at the junction of Fiske street. The proposed new road which was voted by the town will take a large strip of land from George W. Trull and so runs as to cut the North Tewksbury school in halves and to separate the house and barn of Mrs. Samuel C. Miller, the proposed improvement taking in her house and home. Mrs. Miller was the principal witness at the hearing this morning. The proposed new road will destroy her home and she asks that she be provided with another home as good as the one she loses, a matter of about $2000. In regard to the school house a special meeting will be necessary to determine whether the town will move the present school building to the location or tear it down and build a new school elsewhere.

Selectman Duffy who was present put the question to the commissioners as to what part of the expense it any the county is going to stand. He was informed that the matter had not yet received any official attention from the board.

The selectmen were also advised to go to Mrs. Miller and see for what price they could purchase her house. After the hearing the commissioners and Senator Hubbard embarked in an auto and proceeded down Fiske street to inspect the proposed new state highway along the Merrimack river within the county limits. They left the auto at Varum's Landing and went the remainder of the distance on foot.

There will be an anniversary high mass at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Sacred Heart church for the repose of the soul of Agnes M. Foley.

A NEW TRAIN

THE FIRST THROUGH TRAIN TO NEW YORK IN THE LOWELL STATION

The new through train for New York passed through Lowell today, having made the trip from Portland, Me., on schedule time. It was the first train of a new train service and the last train for the season will leave New York Oct. 7 and this city, southward, October 5. Until that time service in either direction will be daily, except Sunday.

The first train was pretty well advertised and several hundred people gathered at the depot to witness its maiden trip. At the Bigcherry station the train changed over from the Boston & Maine to the New York, New Haven & Hartford. It was a Boston & Maine train from Portland to Lowell and a N. Y. N. H. & H. train from Lowell to New York. In changing over from the Boston & Maine to the N. Y. N. H. & H., the train took the Y track at the Bleachery to Lincoln street, to the main line. With a pilot it took just seven minutes to make the change. The railroad men say that it can be made in six minutes. The train from New York running counter to the train that left here at 11:50 this forenoon arrived here at 3:20 o'clock this afternoon.

Very few tickets had been sold up to within an hour of the time that the train was due, but from that on the sale was quite brisk. An elegant dining car was taken on in this city and will be carried as far as New London. There were six cars in all, including through Pullman parlor cars, composite car and coaches and the dining car between this city and London. The fare from Lowell to New York is $4.51, quite a saving over the old route when one considers the transfer in Boston.

The Boston & Maine men who brought the train to the Lowell Bleachery were Conductor William "Eliot" and Engineer Edward Tucker. The New York, New Haven and Hartford men who took the train out of the hands of the Boston & Maine crew were Conductor O. A. Smith and Engineer R. Donnelly.

John Bourke, assistant superintendent of the southern division of the Boston & Maine railroad, was at the depot and expressed himself as well satisfied with the new train. He said that it arrived on schedule time and he believes that the train will be a very popular one.

C. F. Gourley, district passenger agent for the Boston & Maine, made the trip from Portland to Lowell and he said that everything was slick as a whistle. Mr. Gourley believes that the train will not be so much a business man's train as it will be a family train. "I feel sure," he said, "that this new train service will be a big success. It is something that the people have wanted for years and the railroad, so far as it is within their power, like to give the people what they want and that is no hyperbole."

The new train to New York is due to arrive in this city at 11:40 and leave at 11:50. This is the time allowed for the ordinary stop and for the change from one road to the other.

The engine that brought the train to one makes when he wonds his way, into the forest fastnesses of Maine's great wilderness. Before him lies a playground about fifteen thousand square miles in extent, covered from end to end and side to side with an immense acreage of forest, yet penetrable even to its most remote parts by way of the thousands of interlacing and contiguous lakes, streams, rivers and brooks which lie within its confines. No other country in all the world can show such charming elegance and versatility of scenery; no other land or clime offers more wholesome or more fascinating pastimes, or a better opportunity to gain health and keep it. In fact, the vacation advantages which nature puts forth in Maine's immense, woody reaches are so manifold and diverse that every partaker of them is bound to be all the healthier and happier for his trip in.

As a big-game domain Maine stands second to no other section of America. Its immense forest preserves make an ideal hunt for moose and deer, and the succulent grasses and lily pads by the waterways and the tender bushes on the ridges offer plenty of luscious food for the game animals which make this wilderness their home. It has been but a few years since the whistle of the locomotive first startled Maine's big game in its own domain, and although thousands of visiting sportsmen have come into this section to hunt the deer and moose, the thousands of fine deer and moose that go out of the state each season are but a very small percentage of the many thousands which are still left to roam the forests at their own sweet will.

Maine's deer are the common Virginia or white-tailed variety. They are brownish-gray in color, are exceedingly swift of foot, and can make their way through thick undergrowth with surprising speed. In the summer time deer are unusually tame and can often be approached very closely in a canoe, but in the hunting season they take alarm quickly and have to be hunted with great care. Two hundred and seventy-five pounds is good weight for the average Maine buck deer. Maine's moose are huge, ungainly beasts, coated with coarse brownish hair, which grows darker at the approach of winter, and wearing a short bristly mane, almost black. A grayish color shows on the belly and legs, touched with yellow. A Maine moose will measure from six to seven and a half feet to the tip of his forehead and even when his weight will often exceed a thousand pounds. Take an old bull moose with broad antlers spreading five feet or more from tip to tip, and almost any hunter would risk a good deal to outwit and bring down such a forest monster.

Will New Yorkers patronize this quick train to the Maine woods? You bet they will!

SUPERIOR COURT

Hill Case Still on Trial Today

Auditor Cunningham of the Eastern Cold Storage company was on the witness stand all morning today in the trial of the cases of Hill vs. The Eastern Cold Storage company and against certain directors of the company. It is believed that this case will take all of today and the greater part of tomorrow.

Judge Hardy will adjourn court on Thursday after one of the busiest sessions ever held in this county. The case started last Tuesday.

The five companies are named in two petitions which ask that the corporations be excluded from all corporate rights, and their licenses be forfeited and that all or such portion of their property as the court may deem proper be confiscated or in lieu thereof a fine be imposed.

Armour, Swift and Morris are charged with having entered into a conspiracy to control the prices to be paid by retail and wholesale dealers for dressed meats, butter, eggs, poultry, game, dairy and agricultural products and by-products from the business of slaughtering livestock.

The second count of the petition charges that the three packing companies conspired to restrain trade and destroy competition in the purchase and sale of meat products, livestock, poultry, butter and eggs. The National Packing Co., the information filed in the court today alleges, was chartered in New Jersey in 1902 with a capital stock of $10,000,000 to engage in meat packing and to hold stock of any other corporation.

The National Packing Co., the petition says, "was not organized in good faith for the purpose of engaging in the business authorized by its charter but as a corporation scheme to effect an unlawful trust."

The suits were filed as a result of the examination conducted recently by Daniel W. Dillon who was named by the supreme court to preside at the hearings. The Hammond Packing Co. and the St. Louis Dressed Beef & Provision Co. are owned and controlled in every matter and detail, both in the purchase of livestock and in the sale of dressed and finished products by the National Packing Co. of New Jersey.

The National Packing Co., the hearing developed, is owned by three big packers. Swift owns seven fifteenths, Armour six-fifteenths and Morris twofifteenths. While the National owns these supposedly independent corporations it has been holding them out to the public as separate entities and independent corporations and competitors in business.

In this way these corporations have been and are used as a device in controlling the purchase and selling prices, in thus monopolizing the field and in controlling the packing industry the entrance of new competitors into the business is practically prohibited.

"I have not instituted suit against the Cudahy Packing Co. and Schwarzchild & Sulzberger because the examination I conducted was laid along certain lines and led into a field of inquiry which did not disclose whether they were guilty of any violation of the laws.

The packers must make a return to the suits by June 30. If demurrers are filed they will not be passed on by the court until the October term. If answers are filed the court may appoint a commissioner to take evidence before adjournment for the summer.

HIBERNIAN PARADE

Chief Marshal O'Sullivan Sends Initial Communication

And now for the big Hibernian parade and convention in this city.

Chief Marshal Humphrey O'Sullivan of the monster Hibernian parade, which is to be the great feature of the convention to be held here in August, has established headquarters at room 10, Associate building, and has started making Hibernian Week, the greatest gala week in the history of Lowell.

Today Mr. O'Sullivan sent out the following communication to every county and division president of the state:

Initial communication and invitation to participate in the parade from the office of the chief marshal, June 20, 1910.

With the day of the parade only nine weeks distant, the units that will comprise it so widely scattered, and so many details to be taken care of in order to make this state parade one that the ancient order will be proud of, and trusted the duties of chief marshal to me, as a personal favor, I ask the county and division officers to get busy immediately and at your earliest convenience advise the chief of staff:

If your organization will participate in the parade:

If so, how many men you expect to bring.

If there are any requirements that you will need on your arrival in Lowell.

Answers to these questions will enable the staff to have a proper conception of the number of men who will be in line on that day.

The chief marshal will offer suitable prizes to:

The division bringing the largest number from the longest distance;

The division presenting the best appearance passing the reviewing stand;

The division having the largest number of men in line;

The military company having the best alignment passing the reviewing stand.

Provided the Ladies' auxiliary decide to feature floats depicting "Friendship, Unity and Christian Charity," the three great principles of the order, another float could depict the exalted standing of the A. O. H. among sister societies, and another America and Ireland clasping hands. Should these be gotten up by the Ladies' auxiliary, suitable prizes will be awarded according to merit. The chief of staff should be advised of the intention of the Ladies' auxiliary if they intend to make any effort along these lines.

For the present, the order is "Get Ready!" Let it be the ambition of each organization to win a prize. It will depend upon the energy you put into the preparation, and it will be a great honor for the division that will win the prize for the best appearance in passing the judges' stand; it will be a great honor for the military company that will win the prize for the best alignment in passing the judges' stand. These prizes may take the shape of trophies or money; it has not yet been decided by the staff. Distinctive judges will be appointed to award the prizes.

Any inquiries pertaining to the parade should be sent to the chief of staff, 10 Associate building, to avoid delay in answering.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 20.—

Attorney General Major began ouster proceedings against five meat packing companies today by filing quo warranto information in the supreme court.

The companies attacked are the Armour Packing Co., Morris & Co., Swift & Co., Hammond Packing Co. and St. Louis Dressed Beef & Provision Co.

The Armour, Swift and Morris companies are charged with violating the anti-trust law and the Hammond & St. Louis Dressed Beef and Provision Co. as subsidiary companies of the National Packing Co., with conspiracy to control the meat packing business in Missouri.

The five companies are named in two petitions which ask that the corporations be excluded from all corporate rights, and their licenses be forfeited and that all or such portion of their property as the court may deem proper be confiscated or in lieu thereof a fine be imposed.

Arseaneau, the complainant, was the first witness for the government. He testified that both he and his wife are employed in the Merrimack mills and last Wednesday morning about 6.20 o'clock, while they were passing through Dutton street, the defendant came out of the narrow passageway between the mill and the railroad through which the railroad cars pass parallel with Moody street. 6 O'CLOCK BODY IS LOCATED

Remains of Chas. A. Taylor Will be Brought to Lowell

After a search covering many years, through public subscription, though the resting place of the bones of Charles A. Taylor, a soldier of the Sixth Massachusetts regiment, said to have been the first man killed in the civil war, has been found, according to a despatch sent from Baltimore, Md., and tomorrow the remains will be sent to Binghamton and later will be brought to this city and buried beneath the Ladd & Whitney monument in this city.

Ladd, Whitney and Taylor fell during the riot which marked the passage of the Sixth regiment along Pratt street in that city on April 19, 1861.

After the riot Taylor's body was completely lost track of by his friends. The bodies of Ladd and Whitney were returned to this city and now lie beneath the Ladd and Whitney monument in Monument square.

The body of Taylor had not been found, though an unremitting search had been carried on for years. General Edwin F. Jones, commander of the Sixth regiment when it marched through Baltimore, has for years been personally interested in the search.

It was Gen. Jones, indeed, who was responsible for the beautiful tablet placed upon the Ladd and Whitney monument a year ago last Memorial day in memory of the missing comrades. The memorial was obtained through public subscription, though the movement was started by Gen. Jones.

The inscription on the tablet is as follows:

CHARLES A. TAYLOR
Co. D, 5th M. V. M.
The First to Fall in Defense of the Union
April 19, 1861.

"Nothing is here for tears, nothing to wall,
Or knock the breast, no weakness, no contempt,
Dispraise of blame, nothing but well and fair,
And what may quiet us in a death so noble."

Some time ago, as a last resort, advertisements were inserted in Baltimore papers, one of which was seen by Samuel P. Glenn of that city, who pointed out Taylor's grave in the Methodist cemetery at LaFayette street and Loney's lane, Baltimore. A board at the head of the grave bears the time dimmed inscription, "A soldier of the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment, killed in riot."

This inscription is considered ample identification, for the bodies of all three of the others killed at the same time have long since been identified.

DAMAGE IS GREAT

PITTSBURG, June 20.—Reports received today from the districts cut off from communication by storms of Saturday indicate that the damage done in the stricken sections will amount to a much larger sum than was at first reported. Julius Desroche, aged 82 years, was drowned in the Ohio river, as he attempted to reach the north shore of the stream near Bruuots Island, Pittsburg, today. The current and high waters overturned his skiff.

At Point Marion, Pa., millions of feet of lumber and hundreds of logs are being carried out of the Cheat river which is nearing flood stage. If the water rises an additional five feet, Point Marion, a town of 600 persons, will be inundated. Another storm of the proportions of a cloudburst visited the district early today followed by fire. Several residences were burned.

At Brownsville the county authorities total the damage to property in that district at $100,000. The Monongahela river there now stages 35 feet and is still rising. The Monongahela river railroad is entirely out of commission, the valley through which it runs being a roaring torrent.

TO SIGN CLAIMS AGREEMENT

LONDON, June 20.—The report that James Bryce, British ambassador at Washington, had been authorized to sign the British-American preliminary claims agreement was officially confirmed by Thomas McKinnon Wood, under secretary of state for foreign affairs, in the commons today. Mr. Wood stated that the foreign office was now in communication with the state department of the United States regarding the publication of the terms of the agreement.

LOSS IS $20,000

Factory at West Medway Destroyed

WEST MEDWAY, June 20.—The factory building of the Smith Overall Co., a three-story wooden structure, was destroyed by fire today causing a loss estimated at $20,000 and throwing 40 hands out of employment. The fire is believed to have originated near the boiler. At one time the Baptist church and two or three dwellings in the neighborhood were also burning but the small fires were soon extinguished. Help was summoned from Medway and Milford.

The annual distribution of diplomas and certificates to the graduates of St. Patrick's Boys' and Girls' schools took place at high mass yesterday before a large congregation. The presentation was made by Rev. William O'Brien, P. R. Bro. Osmond, principal of the boys' school, calling the names of the graduates.

The celebrant of the mass was Rev. John J. McHugh, and the choir, directed by Mr. Michael J. Johnson, sang special music for the occasion. The musical program as well as in the responses of the mass. The sermon was preached by Rev. Timothy Callahan. At its conclusion he took occasion to compliment the graduates on the completion of their studies, and the teachers of both on their work of the year, in giving to the young people a proper Catholic training.

The graduates of the boys' school were: James A. Mahoney, John A. O'Brien, Frederick E. Wright, John J. Healey, Raymond R. Lynch, Eugene A. Dean, John J. Hamill, John S. Armstrong, John J. Keefe, Frederick McCall, James S. McNally, Patrick O'Hearn and John P. Flannery. Special archdiocesan certificates, awarded by His Grace Archbishop O'Connell, were presented to James A. Mahoney and John A. O'Brien.

The pupils of the girls' school to receive diplomas were: Catherine J. Egan, Catherine J. Beane, Mary C. Sullivan and Helen Whelton.

TRAIN WAS DERAILED

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 20.—A fast north-bound train from Knoxville to Cincinnati, on the Louisville & Nashville road, was derailed between Berry and Falmouth, Ky., early today. It is reported that all the coaches are in the ditch. Several are reported killed and many injured. Physicians of Paris have been ordered to the scene.

CROP CONDITIONS

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 20.—Owing to an unusual hot and dry spell in some parts of the Minnesota, North and South Dakota, crop conditions have caused some uneasiness but the advices at hand show that the situation is not desperate.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The Gillette bill to permit Justice Moody of the supreme court to retire on full pay on account of his long continued illness was passed by the house today by unanimous consent.

BOYS DROWNED

Two Lost Their Lives While Bathing

NEW YORK, June 20.—Two boys were drowned in New Jersey yesterday while bathing, one at West Orange and the other at Bordentown. The first was Joseph B. Halprin, 19 years old, the son of Rabbi Samuel Halprin of 161 Spruce street, Newark. The lad went bathing in Cable Road lake, at the top of the Orange mountains, riding out to the lake on his bicycle.

After swimming about for some time he was seen to dive from a stump in the center of the lake. He came to the surface and started for the shore, when he suddenly screamed, threw up his arms and sank. Other boys swam to the place where he went down and dove for him, but without success.

An hour later, however, the body was recovered, and then it was learned that his bathing suit had caught on a branch at the bottom of the lake. The body was taken to Evans' morgue in Orange.

The other victim was Salvatore Locicero, 17 years old, whose father lives in Manhattan. The boy was visiting friends at Bordentown and went bathing in Crosswicks creek. He was swept off his feet by the current and drowned. The body was recovered by John Campbell.

MAN ARRESTED

Is Charged With Complicity in Murder

NEW YORK, June 20.—W. J. Duffy of Brooklyn was today arrested, charged with complicity in the murder of Frederick Devlin who was shot to death in the Waverly hotel on the morning of Feb. 17th last. Two men walked into the hotel that morning with drawn revolvers and demanded money. Devlin handed them fifty cents, declaring it was all he had. As he turned a shot was fired into his back and he died two hours later. The men then hammered James Desmond, the night clerk, into unconsciousness with their revolver butts, rifled the cash drawer of its contents and escaped.

Duffy was arrested for an alleged assault in Long Island City and on his appearance in court was taken to police headquarters and charged with murder.

DEFIED PARENTS

Daughter of Wealthy Man Ran Away and Was Married

NEW YORK, June 20.—Lewis Rahmer, a wealthy lithographer, and his wife are seriously ill at their home, No. 521 West One Hundred and Eleventh street, through grief over the elopement of their daughter, Elsie Vivian Rahmer, a beautiful girl of twenty. She disappeared Tuesday and on Thursday married Edward Gore Dunning, a young photographer, whose home is in Glenbrook, Conn. He had been devoted to her several years and was a welcome caller at the Rahmer home. But because his means were not sufficient to maintain the girl in the luxury to which she was used, her parents refused to allow a wedding.

She is the only child of the Rahmers, who have been driven to nervous prostration. They were under the care of physicians and nurses yesterday.

"Elsie is a foolish, hasty girl," they sent word to a caller. "We had only her best interests at heart, and would have allowed her to marry Mr. Dunning when his circumstances improved. But she would not wait. We have nothing to say about forgiveness yet."

Meanwhile the girl who didn't let money stand between her and her suit, was enjoying her honeymoon at the home of her uncle, M. H. Rosenblatt, at Grand View, on the Hudson.

"Ed and I loved each other and that was all that was necessary," she declared. "I do not want luxury, and will be glad and happy to get along with whatever my husband is able to provide. Papa and mamma are needlessly worried now, but I will go down and see them in a day or so, and everything will be all right."

The first indication that the Rahmers had of the defiance of their wishes was on Tuesday, when a messenger handed Mr. Rahmer, at his place of business, a typewritten note, which read:

"I am going away with Ed and am going to marry him. You will hear from me when the ceremony is over—Elsie."

Determined to prevent the marriage, Mr. Rahmer hurried to the home of Dr. Edwin Harrington, No. 110 East One Hundred and Tenth street, whose wife, also a physician, is Dunning's sister. Neither Dunning nor Elsie was there, and the Harringtons declined to tell the angry father where they were.

Next day Mr. Rahmer visited the home of M. H. Rosenblatt, a brother of M. H. Rosenblatt, the rich Wall street broker. Mrs. Rosenblatt is Mr. Rahmer's sister, but she likewise refused to give any information. As a matter of fact, Elsie and young Dunning were in the Rosenblatt home at the time, arranging for their wedding. The father suspected this, but did not see the runaways.

Thursday evening word came to him by telephone that the marriage had been performed that afternoon. He was taken ill at the news, and has been in bed ever since. He was not given any details of the marriage, and not until yesterday was he sure there had been one, he said. Then a notice appeared in the papers, saying the Rev. Dr. Franklin Babitt had performed the ceremony at Orangetown, a suburb of Nyack.

Friday the runaway bride called up her home and asked that her violin and music be sent to Grand View. She is a talented musician, and needed only her violin to complete her happiness.

STATEHOOD BILL SIGNED

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The president signed the statehood bill at 1.40 p. m. today.

THE WYMAN WILL

SALEM, June 20.—Mrs. Mary Cutler of Andover, who was expected to be contestant of the will of the late Isaac Wyman of Marblehead who left his millions to Princeton university, appeared through her counsel, William Ollin, in the Essex probate court here today and withdrew her appearance in the case. Attorney Ollin stated that further investigation had convinced himself that his client had no ground for contesting the will.

William Hill, counsel for the will, said that there had been no compromise or had there been any promise of a payment as a condition of a settlement.

The only contestants remaining are four named Mudge, living in Lynn and Peabody. They are cousins of the testator and will be given a hearing in the probate court next Wednesday.

BOAT WAS LOST

All the Passengers Were Rescued

CHICAGO, June 20.—The steamer Lola, a pleasure boat, plying between Kensington and Riverside park, sank yesterday in the Halsted river while en route to the park with 100 passengers. All on board were rescued by three or four launches that hurried to the disabled boat. The vessel sprang a leak when under the North Kensington & Eastern railroad bridge and was run aground.

LIQUOR SEIZURES

Two Made by Liquor Squad Yesterday

Sergeant Alexander Duncan and Inspector William H. Grady, of the liquor squad, made two seizures of liquor yesterday morning.

They visited the house of Louis Pouris at 462 Adams street, corner of Market street, where a small quantity of beer and whiskey was taken.

The restaurant of Joseph Lescarbeau at the corner of Alken and Cheever streets was also visited and after a careful search of the premises a quantity of whiskey was found.

The cases will be called in court during the week, when Pouris and Lescarbeau will each be charged with the illegal keeping of liquor.

MAN INDICTED

On Charge of Larceny and Arrested

Angelos Diamantopoulos was arrested by Inspector Philip Dwyer and Special Officer John Regis this morning on a capias issued by the superior court on a charge of larceny. He was taken to the police station where he was booked and will later appear in court. He was a collector or agent for a local insurance company.

SURPRISE PARTY

HENRY ALLEN PRESENTED A GOLD WATCH

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Allen of Chelmsford street was the scene of much enjoyment last Friday evening, when a large number of friends of their son Henry assembled and presented him with a handsome gold watch. The presentation speech was made by Arthur Chadwick, and Master Henry responded gracefully, although he was entirely taken by surprise. A musical program was carried out that proved to be of a highly entertaining order, including the following: Piano solos by Orin Allen, Joseph Higgenbotham and Miss Agnes Couti; whistling solos by William Carr and Percy Willis. Games were played and a general good time prevailed. During the evening refreshments were served.

EASON APPOINTED

IS MADE NATIONAL LEAGUE UMPIRE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 20.—Mal Eason, formerly connected with the Eastern league and at present an umpire in the Southern Association, has been appointed an umpire in the National league, according to an announcement here. Southern league President Kavanaugh has offered Eason's vacant berth to Bill Hart, the old-time Pittsburg pitcher, who has been pitching in the Southern league for several years, being a member of the Chattanooga team now.

THE YALE OARSMEN

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 20.—Owing to the heat only light work was given the Yale oarsmen today. Under Mr. Kennedy's coaching, the fours rowed a mile up stream and then returned to quarters. The varsity eight devoted most of its time on the water to trying racing starts. The work of the freshman eight was practically the same as that of the varsity. In the varsity four Hogue replaced Patterson at number 2, the latter taking the corresponding seat in the second four vacated by Hogue.

DEMOCRAT WINS

EMPEROR IMPROVED

POTSDAM, June 20.—Emperor William has so far recovered from a sore knee that he decided today to attend the yacht regatta at Kiel. His majesty has the consent of his physicians in the matter.

PRESENTED A SWORD

A sword was presented to Capt. Irving T. Gumb, of Co. H, L. H. S. regiment, by members of his company. The presentation speech was made by Second Lieutenant Clark. He was ably assisted by Second Sergeant Rhodes in the work. Captain Gumb was greatly surprised and thanked the members of the company heartily.

ARMY OF CATERPILLARS

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 20.—An army of caterpillars along the Canadian Pacific railroad in York and Sunbury counties is making trouble for the trainmen and delaying heavy trains on grades. In York county, near the Sunbury county line, the caterpillars cover the tracks so completely that not a glimpse of steel can be seen. When the wheels of the locomotives strike the worms but they turn uselessly as if the rails were soaped. The caterpillars have stripped the trees of leaves for several miles. The railroad people are attaching steam pipes to the locomotives in order to clear the rails of the pest.

Miss Catherine F. Daly is visiting Dr. and Mrs. Keegan of Arlington Heights and is also being entertained by Miss Teresa Powell of East Boston, formerly of Winchester.

WON BOTH GAMES

Lowell Played Great Ball Before Great Crowd

But for the heavy downpour of rain Saturday there would have been 5000 baseball fans at Spaulding park to witness the double header between Lowell and Worcester, but as it was there were 2500 in attendance when the first game started and for over a half an hour afterwards the enthusiasts were crowding into the grounds all trying to seek points of vantage to witness the game.

Many people were of the opinion that neither game would be played, but word was telephoned in from the grounds that there would be at least one game and later it was announced that the double header would be carried out if darkness did not interfere. This announcement caused those who thought that there would be no game to hurry to the grounds.

The most enthusiastic gang of fans at the game were the two car loads of rooters who came up from Lawrence. At times they shouted for Lowell and then shifted over and cheered for the Burdett gang.

From one o'clock until the time the first game was started four men were busily engaged in removing the puddles of water from the grounds and even though the grounds were not in the best of condition when the first game was called it was much better than any person thought it could be made.

Present at the game was the Middlesex County Training School band, which rendered pleasing selections prior to the game and between the innings.

Lowell's lineup was practically the same as it was the last time the home team played, the only exception being Tyler, who was in the points. Keady, coach for Dartmouth college, made his first appearance with the Worcester aggregation and King, a former member of the Brooklyn National team, was covering the position between second and third bases for the visitors.

Umpire Tom Duffy was the decision maker and he called the first game at three o'clock, the batting order of the teams being as follows:

First Inning
The home team started out with a rush in the first inning and scored three runs while the visitors failed to send a man across the plate.

The visitors as usual went to bat first and Page hit to Boutles and died at first. Crum flied to Fluharty and Haas followed with a single. Anthony hit a grounder to Tenney and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Fitzpatrick drew a free pass and he went to second on Tenney's single. Cooney bunted to Keady and the latter threw bad to third to get Fitz and all three were safe. Fluharty singled to centre field and Fitz traveled home. Magee flied to McCune; Blakely drew a free pass forcing in Tenney for the second run. Boutles singled to left field, Cooney scoring. Fluharty tried to score but was called at the plate. Boutles and Blakely tried a double steal and Blakely was thrown out at the plate.

Score—Lowell 3, Worcester 0.

Second Inning
There was nothing doing in the second inning. Russell flied to Magee and King followed with a single, but McDermott flied to Fluharty and McCune hit to Boutles and was out at first.

In Lowell's half Sullivan flied to Crum. Tyler hit to Keady and died at first. Fitz singled to left field and Tenney hit to Keady and was out at first.

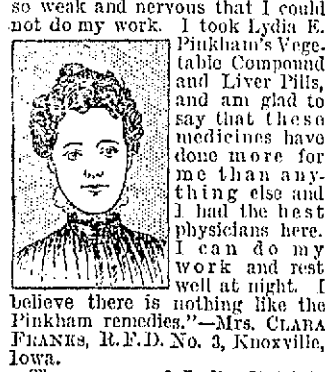

Score—Lowell 3, Worcester 0.

Third Inning
There were two more goose eggs

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her

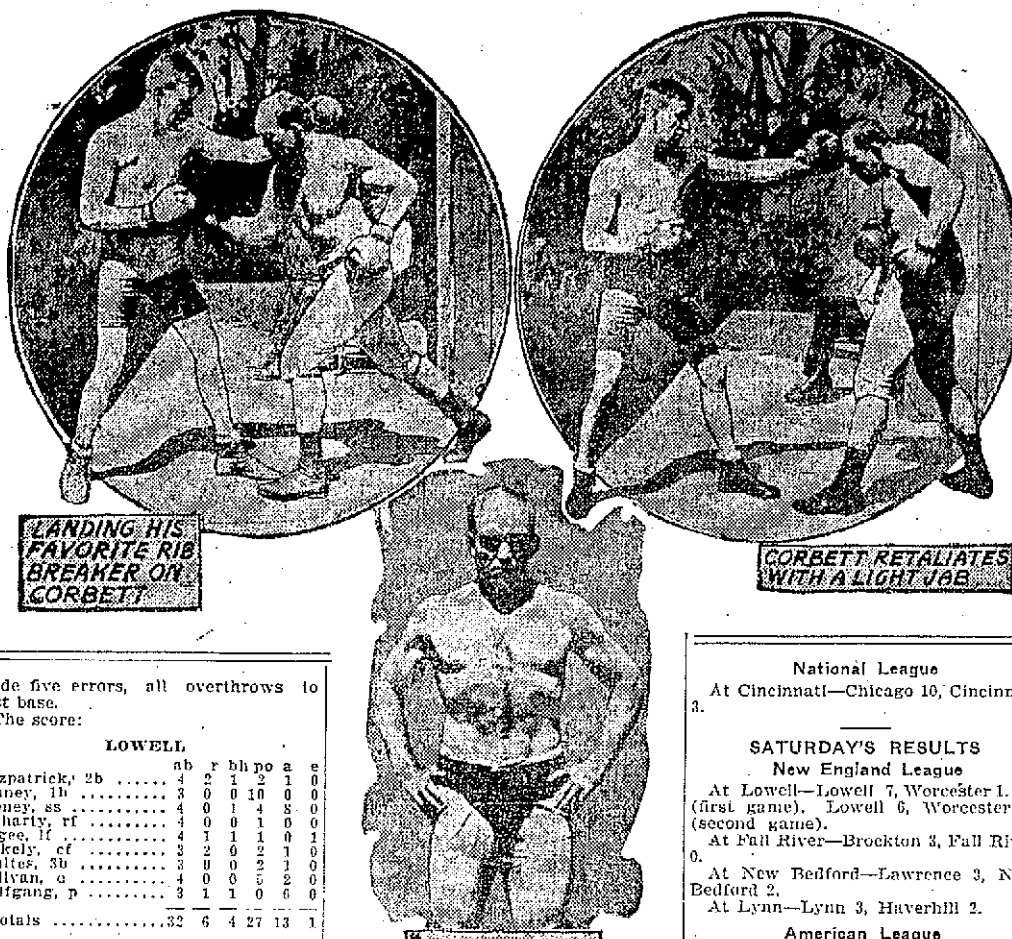

Knoxville, Iowa. — "I suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more and was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and am glad to say that these medicines have done more for me than anything else and I had the best physicians here. I can do my work and rest well at night. I believe there is nothing like the Pinkham remedies." — Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R.F.D. No. 3, Knoxville, Iowa.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ailments, and suffering women owe it to themselves to test it, for it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

DIAMOND NOTES

Double header at Haverhill today.

The second game was spoiled by the action of Burdett and his players.

It was Tom Keady's first appearance this season. He has been coaching Dartmouth this season with great success.

While Jesse Burdett was using all kinds of vulgarly toward Umpire Duffy the following conversation took place between Tom Keady and Billy Page, the latter having been chased off the grounds by the umpire. "You shouldn't get yourself in bad with the umpires, Billy," said Keady. "I didn't say anything bad to him," answered Page. "Well, you must have said something or he wouldn't have fined you," replied Keady, and it's all foolishness to get into trouble with the umpires. They have the power and they can hang a fine on you whenever they want to and you have to pay it. You can bet no umpire will get any of my money this year because I won't talk back to any of them. Furthermore, it hurts the game. When you get second base we're crippled and then again the crowd goes sore on a player who fights the umpire and they make life miserable for him." Keady is a college ball player and some people are inclined to scoff at college players. But if college did nothing else for Keady it taught him to be a gentleman, which in itself was worth the time and money expended on his education.

"Whiskers" Van Dyke, Worcester's new pitcher, didn't look so bad on the slab. He's built a la Van Dyke and he had no difficulty dodging the rain drops.

Burdett hated to play that second game and with most any other umpire would have carried his point. Umpire Duffy would have finished that game if they had to play by candle light.

Umpire Duffy was up against it but he umpired a good game nevertheless. He received a foul tip on the forehead in the second game that rendered him groggy for a few moments.

The Training school band with Director Jim Larkin waving the baton gave a most acceptable program between the innings. They got the crowd going when they tore off turkey in the streets. Even Tenney with his lead pedal shook himself a little.

After the game Burdett made the following speech: "You've got quite a team up here, and it's up to you people to appreciate it. Lowell's got it on us, but that isn't saying that Lowell will finish ahead of us. We simply can't seem to strike our gait while playing with Lowell."

Perhaps Cooney didn't show some class Saturday. In the first game he got three hits while in the second he had 12 chances without an error.

Worcester has the King of short-stops. He made his first appearance in Saturday's game. Before the game started Jesse said: "I got him from Brooklyn. I don't know whether he's any good or not." King made five overthrows in the second game.

Tenney saved a few errors by bathering in bad throws at first.

Officer Considine had the distinction of removing Mr. Burke from the field, while Officer Mike Conley, however, about like an auxiliary cruiser all cleared for action.

Some of the features of Saturday's game: Lightning, thunder, rain, mud, more rain and more mud in the second game; band concert, three players,

In the case of savings bank insurance, however, the savings banks of the country do not have an expensive establishment or an expensive corps of high salaried officers. They are doing the work at cost, and it is forbidden by law, under our system, to have either collectors or solicitors.

At the close of the address Rev. He said that the American Life & Leather company is co-operating with the savings bank insurance league by handling the accounts of their employees, and he hoped to see many more instances of the same kind of work.

COMMITTED SUICIDE SECRETARY KNOX

17 Year Old Girl Was a Resident of This City

BOSTON, June 20.—When Medical Examiner Leary called, at the request of a South and physician, at the lodging house, 197A West Newton street, about 9 o'clock Saturday morning he was informed by the landlady, Mrs. Evangelina Louisa Rock, a widow, that a pretty, black-haired girl had killed herself by gas in a room on the fifth floor. The girl, Mrs. Rock said, was her cousin, Miss M. Shields, aged 17, formerly of Clinton and Lowell.

The death of the young woman, according to the medical examiner, seemed to have upset the landlady considerably. The latter said that she disliked the duty of informing the girl's mother that she was dead. She knew it would break her heart.

Dr. Leary ordered the body removed to the City hospital morgue, and returned to his office without informing the police of the suicide, because, he said, he pitied the girl and desired to make her death easier for her mother to bear by not giving it publicity.

Yesterday morning, after Dr. Leary had completed his autopsy on the body at the City hospital morgue, three women and four men appeared there. One of the women was Mrs. Rock, another was Mrs. Elizabeth Shields, the mother of the suicide, while the identity of the third woman was not learned by the morgue attendants. One of the men was George Shields, a brother of the dead girl; another was a relative by marriage. Who the other men were was not stated.

Mrs. Shields said she had been told that her daughter was wearing several rings when her body was taken from the house on West Newton street. A morgue employee produced the rings—a plain gold baby ring that the girl had worn from childhood, a heavy gold band ring, a gold ring set with pearls and amethysts that belonged to her sister Margaret before her death, and a gold ring containing a small diamond that Mrs. Rock claimed to have given her.

The mother said she would take the rings, and they were delivered to her. Then Mrs. Shields, according to the medical examiner and employees at the morgue, said she did not intend to claim the body of her daughter. "Let the city bury her," she said.

The mother's remark irritated Dr. Leary and he demanded that the rings be returned to him. Mrs. Shields passed them back and the party left the hospital, but not before Dr. Leary made it plain to them what his plans for today would be.

The medical examiner went to the East Boston street station and told Sgt. Munro the story of the death of the Shields girl. Detective Irwin and Patrolman Trainor were sent to the West Newton street lodging house, being instructed to claim anything that belonged to the girl. The doctor told the police it was his intention to report the case to the overseers of the poor today. He could not understand why relatives and friends who appeared prosperous should permit the girl's body to go to a pauper's grave.

A search showed that Miss Shields' personal belongings were few and of little value.

Mrs. Rock volunteered the information that within a year or two Mrs. Shields had buried two other daughters, who died suddenly. "It took money to bury them," she said. "I guess the woman cannot afford to bury this girl."

Mrs. Rock said the mother of the girl lives at 28 May street, Lowell, and that she has one daughter and two sons living.

"The girl was not really my cousin," said Mrs. Rock. "Back in the past both of us had ancestors that were blood relations. I regarded it that we were simply cousins by family or courtesy," is the way that Mrs. Rock expressed her relationship to the girl.

While she lived in the south end Miss Shields had several occupations. Once she was employed as a stenographer in South Boston and later in a lunch room on Milk street.

What Girl's Aunt Says

Miss Helen M. Shields was the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Shields, who lives at 28 May street, in this city. Mrs. Mary McDonald of 23 May street is her aunt. Mrs. Shields, mother of the young woman, has been rooming with her sister, Mrs. McDonald. Mrs. Shields was called to Boston Saturday by telephone by a report of her daughter's death and has not returned. Mrs. McDonald said she had not received any word from her sister since she left for Boston.

Mrs. McDonald said her niece did not visit at her house frequently and the news of her death was a great surprise. She said she was waiting the return of her sister to learn the cause of the girl's death.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Lakeview theatre opens its regular season tonight with that beautiful rural drama called "The Dairy Farm," from the pen of Eleanor Merron. This beautiful play has been played in New York for over 200 nights and has been pronounced by both press and public as being better than either "The Old Homestead" or "As Ye Sow."

Mr. James Thatcher, who is the leading man, was the original Quincy Adams Sawyer and has had a great deal of experience in stock work. Miss Florine Farr who will play opposite to Mr. Thatcher has been the leading

Has Decided to Remain in the Cabinet

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Definite announcement last night of the decision of Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania to remain in the cabinet as secretary of state during the remainder of Mr. Taft's term of office confirmed the intimations to the same effect received yesterday from Philadelphia.

Pennsylvania republicans who are here make no secret of their disappointment at Mr. Knox's yielding to the urgency of the president and at the dashing of their hopes that he would become their gubernatorial nominee this year. In a formal statement issued here last night, Mr. Knox declared that, provided the tender of the nomination had come to him as expressing the real desire of the party in Pennsylvania, he would have accepted the nomination, but for the request of the president that he remain in the cabinet.

It was made known late last night

in an unmistakable way that the president regards Mr. Knox's decision as definitely refuting the rumors in circulation for some time to the effect that the secretary is not altogether happy in his position.

The president was reported as even anxious that the outcome should indicate beyond question that he regards Mr. Knox as a great lawyer and a great secretary of state. It was said Mr. Knox has played an important part in all of the important acts and policies of the administration.

Attention was called to Mr. Taft's studied policy of non-interference with the heads of the executive departments and it was pointed out that in every respect Mr. Knox's acts and decisions have had the unreserved support of the president. It was made plain that for every reason Mr. Taft regards the secretary's decision with more than ordinary satisfaction.

PERIN'S HIPPODROME

Another big bill is announced for this week, which started with a matinee this afternoon at Washington Park, and from the standard set by the management for the program of last week it seems that the limit has been reached in the excellence of the acts offered, but when you read the list for this week you will see that the high standard of the program presented for the first week is kept up.

The bill offered today contained many acts that are new and unique, among which are Klutzing's animals, showing dogs, rabbits, doves and pigeons in a pleasing and diversified act, showing how trainers can infuse into small dumb animals the knowledge of human affairs, Edwin George, the comedy juggler in side splitting and laughable feats, Little, Alright and company, in a novelty act direct from Japan, showing the kind of entertainment given in that flower kingdom.

A big feature act for the week is Huber's Trained Bears, a group of five big beautiful black bears that perform all sorts of tricks imaginable at the direction of their trainer, Madam Huber. One of the bears who is better known as Judy will during their act perform the Salome dance and she is said to be a scream in her grotesque movements.

Prof. DeNoto and his Genoa band will render new selections of popular and classic music being lead by that eccentric leader, DeNoto himself, who in his one week's stay at the park has installed himself as a favorite with the people of our city.

The motion pictures will be seen in the evenings and are entirely new; also those funny clowns with Dan DuCrow in new stunts that will be laughable and unique come.

The Hippodrome will give two performances daily, matinee 2.15 and nights at 8.15. Don't fail to attend and see for yourself the magnitude of the bill offered.

GRAND STEEPLECHASE

PARIS, June 20.—The Grand Steeplechase of Paris, which was run yesterday over the Auteuil course, was won by C. G. Assheton-Smith's Jerry M. We Must Force the Sale

Previous to our buying the big bankrupt stock of the J. Brest Co., of Brockton, we had placed big orders at the New York Furniture Exposition for spring and early summer shipment of hundreds of Fancy Chairs and Rockers. Although there were hundreds in the Bankrupt stock we felt in honor bound to take all those we had ordered, as many of them were finished to our special order. Now then you may imagine the quantity of chairs we have in stock. Notwithstanding the great quantity we have sold we must sell many more. Our buildings are so crowded that we can't display our immense stock properly.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today the Theatre Voyons shows "How Champions Are Won and Lost," acted by James J. Corbett, and at this time when so much interest is manifested in boxing it will be especially interesting. In this picture Corbett shows the different styles of boxing, the different blows, boxes three rounds, introduces a series of training stunts and concludes with his famous shadow boxing. He is the cleverest boxer before the public, and like his vaudeville sketches, this picture is full of interest from start to finish. Another picture that will appeal strongly to the lovers of sport is "The Russian Lion," a dramatic story picture whose plot hinges on a championship wrestling bout. A laughable comedy, strong dramatic and several pleasing musical selections complete a wonderfully good show.

THE KAISER'S INJURIES

POTSDAM, June 20.—The Emperor's physicians issued a statement yesterday with reference to the affection of the knee from which he is suffering. They state that the inflammation is taking a most favorable course and that the discharge has now almost ceased. They deny absolutely the story published yesterday morning in the Lokai Anzeiger, declaring that the trouble is not fatal in character and that no operation was performed yesterday, adding that Dr. Bler who was said by the paper to have been the operating surgeon, did not visit the palace yesterday.

The whole story is defined by the physicians as an exaggeration, and a complete denial has been made, to set the alarm of the public at rest.

CONGRESS LEADERS

Expect That Adjournment Will Take Place Saturday

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Congress leaders confidently expect to wind up the business of the present session this week and adjourn not later than Saturday. If the session is carried beyond that time it will be because of the amendments to the general deficiency bill or complications may arise in connection with the "Omibus public building bill. Some members look for adjournment as early as Thursday.

It is pointed out by republican leaders that there never has been a congress where a president has obtained the amount of legislation that has resulted from the demands of President Taft. Starting in with a demand for revision of the tariff he procured this at an extraordinary session. Then at the beginning of the present session he demanded legislation amendatory of the interstate commerce laws, enabling the president to pursue a forward conservation policy, admitting Arizona and New Mexico to statehood, creating postal savings banks and on the subject of the use of injunctions.

Bills on all these subjects except anti-injunction have passed both branches of congress. The anti-injunction measure will have to wait until next session, but it is said the prospects are good for its passage at that time.

All of the regular army supply bills have passed both houses except the general deficiency bill. That was passed by the house Saturday and will be reported to the senate not later than Tuesday. Unless there is trouble over a scheme for the retirement of superannuated employees of the government, its passage will not take more than one day.

The postal bank bill is still before the senate. It came from the house in the form of an amended bill and Sen. Carter moved that the senate concur in the house amendment. Opposition developed and the motion has been debated intermittently since the bill returned from the house. President Taft approves the house bill and it seems reasonably certain that the senate will accept it.

The rivers and harbors bill is waiting the president's signature and he will soon have the omnibus public building bill which reported to the house yesterday. With both of these measures before him, he is in position to command that action be taken on such remaining bills as he feels should be passed.

President Taft will sign the statehood bill today.

In the last few days of this session there will be a flood of requests in both branches of congress for unanimous consent to take up measures of importance to the communities of the individual members. Many are named to be disappointed for neither branch of congress, as a whole, shows much patience in dealing with measures which have not commanded attention until adjournment is imminent.

POLICE OFFICERS

SAY THERE WAS ATTEMPTED MURDER AND SUICIDE

PORTLAND, Me., June 20.—An attempted murder and then suicide was the solution entertained by the police officers here yesterday as the result of the autopsy performed upon the body of Walter G. Hainscomb, who was found dead in a bed in the Dickford livery stable at Gorham Saturday with the unconscious form of Mrs. May Stewart beside him. The result of the autopsy therefore disposed of the theory that a third party may have been concerned in the tragedy.

Yesterday's autopsy disclosed the fact that Hainscomb's wound was caused by a pistol ball that passed through the pleura but did not touch the heart, and that death did not ensue for some time after the shooting. Mrs. Stewart, who was shot in the head is still at the Maine general hospital in a critical condition. The woman had been separated from her husband for some time and had been on friendly terms. It is said, with Hainscomb, Hainscomb, who was a hostler, was a native of Rochester, N. H. The cause of the shooting is not known.

GLIDDEN TOUR CONTEST

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., June 20.—Nineteen contestants in the Glidden tour contest, accompanied by press cars and the officials, arrived yesterday afternoon between 12 and 1 o'clock. Two accidents occurred on the road from Little Rock. The Carter car, No. 108, broke the right rear axle a short distance from Little Rock and was disqualified. The Lexington car, No. 102, was also disqualified by breaking the frame. Both cars have ordered extra parts and will continue through the run to Chicago.

HE IS AFTER WALSH HUNTING EXPEDITION

U. S. District Attorney Trying to Locate Alleged Faro Man Whitney and Party Sail for the Arctic Region

BOSTON, June 20.—"There isn't a word of truth in them," said U. S. Dist. Atty. Asa P. French last evening to a reporter who asked him concerning the correctness of published stories that he intends to have several Boston bankers before the federal grand jury at a special sitting this week to consider the operations of the faro gang. "I shall continue by investigation," he said, "but at present I cannot say what I will do, for I have no definite plans. Such stories are entirely without foundation. At present I have no intention of causing the wholesale arrests, in this case, which have been suggested in the stories in some of the newspapers."

"Martin J. Walsh is the man I am after now and I shall not rest until he has been arrested and prosecuted. We have heard from him all over the world. We do not know where he is at present, but we will find him." It has been common report that several well known bankers, business, professional men and some politicians were taken in by members of the faro gang and fleeced out of thousands of dollars. Many of these men have admitted that they ever knew any of the members of the gang or that they ever were fleeced by the sharpers. They would be most unwilling witnesses and for this reason it would possibly be useless to call them before the grand jury.

Francis J. Wood, the grocer friend of William J. Keilher, who is charged with perjury, was given a hearing at 10 o'clock this morning before U. S. Commissioner Hayes. Keilher has not yet been able to secure bondsmen. He spent a quiet day at the Charles street jail yesterday and was not permitted to receive visitors. His meals were sent in to him from a hotel, and he ate heartily, smoked almost continuously and late in the afternoon had a long sleep. Keilher's friends are finding it difficult to meet the bail requirement of not less than three and not more than six men who can qualify each in the sum of $50,000 unencumbered real estate. The federal authorities are not yet willing to accept a bonding company as surety and in case they do the bonding company may ask to be secured.

While Keilher is hopeful of success many of his friends fear he will be obliged to remain in jail until his case is finally disposed of next fall. Keilher is peevish at times though as a rule he is cheerful. U. S. Dist. Atty. French said last night that he has not as yet been approached by Keilher's counsel and friends in the matter of offering bail for the prisoner.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—After being in conference some time late last night with some of the city powers, Tex Rickard shortly after 12 o'clock kept his promise to a delegation of newspapermen, who had been awaiting him for hours by making a statement. Rickard told the newspapermen that he would start for Reno at 10.40 this morning to make definite arrangements as to where the fight is to be held in the state of Nevada.

As a result of Rickard's announcement, general movement of the fight fraternity will begin today towards Nevada. Quarters have already been engaged for Jeffries at Mauna Springs, while Johnson will be quartered at Lawtons Springs. Rickard also announced to the newspaper delegation that immediately after his arrival in Reno he would hold a conference with the business men of that city, who have been holding out inducements for the fight and with the delegations from Goldfield, which is reported prepared to go to the extent of offering $120,000 to hold the fight in the famous mining camp. The Goldfield delegation reached Reno last night and immediately got into communication with Rickard by telephone. While Rickard has not made up his mind definitely as to the location of the fight, he is known to strongly favor Reno and it is believed that extraordinary inducements will have to be offered by Goldfield to take the fight away from the Nevada metropolis. Contrary to the expectations of the sporting fraternity, Mayor McCarthy has maintained a Sphinxlike silence regarding the fight since his return to the city Saturday. BOSTON, June 20.—Her hold filled with trinkets for Igloo dwellers of the Frozen North and cabins decorated with big game guns and an abundance of ammunition, the steamship Beothic, chartered by Harry Whitney of New Haven, Conn., and Paul J. Rainey, of Cleveland, O., for a hunting expedition in the Arctic, sailed from Pier No. 3 of the New Haven docks in South Boston yesterday.

Flugs were flying and whistles sounded from most of the craft in the harbor as the Beothic swung into the channel under the command of Capt. Bartlett, who made the trip with Peary. Others on board were Dr. Johnson of Lexington, and Hugh M. Ingham, of New York.

A party of New York and Boston society folk were on the pier to see the sportsmen off. The Beothic is chartered in the name of Mr. Rainey and the expedition is called the Rainey hunting expedition. Speculation as to whether Mr. Whitney would recover Dr. Cook's records at Etah remained unsatisfied by the last word of Captain Bartlett, who said, with a smile, "we probably will be better to take the time to hunt up Cook's records."

The crew is a seasoned one in the Arctic and the ship is sheathed with two-inch steel plates to withstand the ice pressures. An immense quantity of supplies had been put aboard for trading with the natives and for the consumption of the sportsmen and crew. Among the supplies were 20 barrels of sugar, 10 barrels of corn meal and 400 pounds of tobacco. Clearance papers were taken out for North Sydney, C. B., where the Beothic will take on bunker coal.

Unknown Man Dead at Worcester Hospital Held by the Hatch Co. Saturday

HAD TIES BOUGHT AT GILBRIDE'S STORE

Was Injured in Railroad Yard and Did Not Recover Consciousness—About 50 Years Old

An unknown man died at the City hospital at Worcester last night, and the police of that city believe that the man may belong in Lowell. The man was found lying in the Worcester railroad yards Saturday, unconscious and injured. He was moved to the City hospital and died without regaining consciousness, so that no facts concerning his identity or the accident in which he was hurt could be obtained.

The body is that of a man about 50 years of age, some 5 feet, 8 inches tall, with light hair and a reddish moustache, and blue eyes. The nose is large and slightly twisted to the right. The man wore a suit of black and gray stripes and a black and white cravat. In a bundle which he had near him when found were two ties bought at Gilbride's department store of this city. There were also two blue shirts in the bundle, and two ties bought from a furniture named Currier whose location is unknown. There were two pairs of glasses in one of the pockets.

FIRST BALLOON OF GLIDDEN ASCENSION TO GO UP WEDNESDAY

The first balloon ascension of the season from this city will be held next Wednesday afternoon, about four o'clock, that is if the weather permits. It is expected that during the summer months there will be two ascensions a week from the yard of the Lowell Gas Light Co. in School street.

Wednesday's ascension will be in the big balloon "Massachusetts" and the pilot will be Charles J. Glidden. Accompanying him will be John J. Van Valkenburgh of South Framingham. The latter is qualifying as an international pilot and Wednesday's trip will be his third one. The third passenger will be L. A. Brown, city editor of the Boston Journal.

J. B. Benton, city editor of the Boston Transcript, and J. Walter Flagg of Worcester, both of whom licensed pilots, will take up a party of friends later in the week.

It is expected that the prevailing winds here at this time of year will be somewhere from the south, a point which favors flights into New Hampshire. As long as the wind is somewhere from the south, everything will be well. West or northwest winds must be avoided by the aeronauts, however, lest they be blown toward the ocean and out to sea.

It is calculated that a flight of about three hours may be made from this city for some 50 or 60 miles into New Hampshire.

HERMIT'S WILL To Be Fought by Brother and Nephews

CHESHIRE, Conn., June 20.—Notice of a contest over the will of Joseph Hill, 93 years old, who has lived the life of a hermit, the greater portion of the time and who has bequeathed $100,000 to the Baptist association of Connecticut, has been filed in the probate court here by a brother and nephews.

In the Hull home, inside of which no one had been for years, were found two wills, one of which it was falling to pieces and the second and later one, in which the Baptist association was made beneficiary.

Under the floor were found two bags, each containing $200 in gold and a number of mortgage notes, dating back so far that the givers in most cases are dead. There was also found a number of savings bank books, interest on the deposits of which had not been figured for 50 years or more. A stubborn contest is looked for.

ENCOUNTERED A DISTURBANCE MANTLA June 20.—The steamer Mongolia of the Pacific Mail S. S. Co. from San Francisco May 24 via Honolulu and Yokohama, which arrived today, reports having experienced a severe seismic disturbance when off the Pescadore Islands near Formosa on last Friday.

The employees of the C. F. Hatch Co. held an enjoyable outing at Camp Wadsworth on the banks of the Concord river in Billerica Saturday afternoon, at the invitation of Miss May Preston. Although the rain descended in torrents in this city during the noon hour and early part of the afternoon, that portion of Billerica, where the camp is located was one of the few places where the rain did not visit. A slight shower during the early part of the evening made the merry-makers run for shelter, but on the whole the affair proved to be a grand success.

The party left Lowell at noon and arrived at the camp in due time. The first thing on the program was a baseball game between the Unededs and the Butter Thins, the former team winning by the close score of 6 to 5. Races followed the game. The winners in the three-legged event were Miss Ella O'Connell and Miss Myrtle Roston. While Miss Ella O'Connell and Miss Cora Rock took the second place. The sack races were run off at intervals, several winners being announced. They were Misses Florence Queen, Stella Marshall, Margaret Doris and Mary Riley. Then came the fat man's race, which was captured by Doris Polard. While the third woman's event went to Florence Queen. The girls' race was won by Margaret Doris.

The last event on the program was a football game. Rules regulating the game were disregarded and while some claim it was Association football, others said it was Rugby, while still others said it was a mixture of both. One of the teams was captained by Miss Preston and the other by Miss Gertrude Shaw.

Following the game, refreshments were served and an entertainment program was carried out. The party left the camp for home about 8 o'clock.

CLOSING ADDRESS

AT WISCONSIN WAS DELIVERED BY GERMAN AMBASSADOR

MADISON, Wis., June 20.—Count Von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States, delivered the baccalaureate address at the opening of the university of Wisconsin's commencement here yesterday.

Speaking on the subject "Social Reform in Germany," Count Von Bernstorff said in part: "The ambition of the masses of the German nation is not so much for economic amelioration and material advantage as for education. The masses see in education an endless perspective and their thirst for knowledge impels them to seek an education. All means of extending and perfecting advantages for securing an education are seized with zeal and often with passion."

HARVARD MACHINE DAMAGED

CAMBRIDGE, June 20.—An accident prevented J. V. Martin from making a trial flight in the aeroplane Harvard I at Soldiers field early today. While running the machine along the ground, testing the brakes, one of the front wheels was smashed and repairs will have to be made before a flight is attempted.

ADS HAIR REVIVER

Has a tendency to give gloss, brilliancy, beauty and life to dry, harsh, brittle, unsightly hair. It cleanses the scalp, does away with dandruff, imparts healthy action of the blood to the roots and stimulates growth of the hair.

Men who want to protect their hair, and women who would add to their attractiveness, should try this preparation, which is absolutely safe and harmless, and one of the best made by the great American Drugists Syndicate of 12,000 reputable druggists. Get it at any A. D. S. drug store, where you see this sign in the window.

THE BUTLER CUP SKETCH OF COL. ROOSEVELT REPLYING TO MAYOR GAYNOR'S SPEECH

Won By Sons of St. George

(Photos by American Press Association)

Colonel Roosevelt making his first speech after his arrival in the United States after his long trip abroad. Mayor Gaynor of New York has just made a speech of welcome, and Colonel Roosevelt is replying and bowing to the cheering crowd.

By defeating the Manchester United Odd Fellows at cricket Saturday, Waverly lodge, Sons of St. George, became the owner of the handsome silver loving cup presented by Cong. Butler Ames a few years ago. The first year the cup was won by the Sons of St. George, but last year matters were reversed and the Odd Fellows captured the trophy. Saturday's game was the deciding one and the Sons of St. George won the contest by a score of 68 to 59, the winning team having lost but three wickets.

The game was played on the Bunting crease and the feature was the batting of David Hird who scored 33 runs and was "not out" when the game was called.

At the conclusion of the match President George Bmsley of the Merrimack Valley league presented the cup to Capt. David Hird of the Sons, while each member of the winning team was given a gold mounted French briar pipe.

Owing to the inclement weather the long list of sports suffered considerably and the midway which usually adds to the delight of the afternoon lost much of its splendor.

One of the most interesting of the sports was the running race for men over 50, won by Peter Caddell in regular professional time.

The score of the cricket game:

REPLY TO PROTEST

WASHINGTON, June 20.—President Madrid, of Nicaragua, has drawn from this government a sharp reply to the protest he made to President Taft that the United States prolonged the war in the little republic because this government refused to allow the bombardment of Bluefields or to allow the Venus to maintain a blockade there.

Consul Olivares at Managua has been furnished with a statement the consul has been directed to hand to Madrid. It observes that if any violation of neutrality has occurred it was when the Venus sailed from New Orleans on an expedition of the Madrid faction. Madrid protested not to the United States alone, but to all the South American and Central American republics.

MOLLY VARNUM CHAPTER

The members of Molly Varnum chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, were entertained Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Lambert and Miss Helen Lambert at the Lambert residence in Pawtucket street.

A varied entertainment program was carried out and the affair proved to be an enjoyable one. Photograph selections were given during the early part of the afternoon after which Rev. J. E. Gregg, pastor of Kirk Street church, addressed the chapter on the subject of "A Safer Fourth." He made several suggestions for a safe and sensible celebration in Lowell, and also read programs that have been suggested or used in other cities. Refreshments were served, the following ladies assisting the hostess: Mrs. E. T. Howell, Mrs. George F. Richardson, Mrs. Franklin Nourse and Miss Webster.

EIGHTEEN PERSONS POISONED

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 20.—Eighteen people were suffering from ptomaine poisoning yesterday, two of them being in a serious condition, as the result of eating food served Saturday night at a lawn party given by the Ladies Aid society of the Edgewood Congregational church. Over 150 attended the church party and it is feared that the number of cases will be increased. The trouble was caused by a chicken salad which it is thought was made from cold storage chickens.

The most serious affected are Col. Arthur V. Wardfield, of the governor's staff and daughter, Mrs. Wardfield also being poisoned. The pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. John Hale Larry, and wife and Dr. W. K. Barge and daughter were also among the victims.

Fair Rider Thrown from Horse

WASHINGTON, June 20.—That an invitation from the president is equivalent to a command was disproven by a young woman yesterday afternoon when Mr. Taft invited her to take a ride in his auto. The president, however, did not feel that he had suffered a rebuff as the invitation had been extended merely in a desire to assist.

Accompanied by his aide, Captain Bull, the president was taking a spin in his car. As they drew near a young man and young woman who were on horseback, the mount of the latter stumbled and fell, throwing its fair rider. The captain sprang from the machine and ran to her aid, the president anxiously looking on to see if she had been hurt. He proffered the use of his machine, suggesting that the young woman allow him to send her home. She declined, saying she would remount. The captain and her escort assisted her back into the saddle where she swayed dizzily for a moment. Again the president tendered the use of his car but again the young woman declined the offer and presently was herself again. She and her escort then rode off without the president or captain knowing whom they had aided.

M.U. ODD FELLOWS

Held Memorial Service and Visited Cemetery

Excelsior, Integrity, Wamesit and Merrimack Valley lodges, Manchester Unity, Odd Fellows, held memorial services for their former comrades yesterday. In the forenoon the members attended the services at the First Congregational church, where a service

REV. BENJAMIN A. WILLMOTT

mon appropriate to the occasion was delivered by Rev. B. A. Willmott, pastor of the church.

In the afternoon the members visited Westlawn cemetery where the Manchester Unity burial lot is located and services were held there.

The members headed by the National band, R. A. Griffiths, leader, marched to the cemetery. At the cemetery besides the marchers were a number of relatives and friends of the deceased members who assisted in the service.

The exercises were opened by Rev. J. T. Carlson, who read prayer after which the hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung.

arrangements consisted of: Chairman, J. Buchanan, of Merrimack Valley lodge; secretary, R. W. Hollingsworth, of Excelsior lodge; treasurer, J. Sugden, of Merrimack Valley lodge.

The joint committee of the lodges was composed of:

Excelsior, P. G. R. Hollingsworth, Brothers Ingham, Bamford, Whiteside, Blackburn.

Integrity—Past Grands Hudson and Mackley, Brothers Boutlier, Hoshorn and Mcgrath.

Wamesit—P. G. Bowles; Brothers Pernley, Battie, Hounsell and Andrews.

POISONED BY SALAD

PAWTUCKET R. I., June 20.—Assistant Adjutant General Wardfield and his wife and daughter, who were the greatest sufferers of the eighteen persons attacked by ptomaine poisoning here Saturday evening, were feeling much improved today and no serious results are anticipated. The poisoning is attributed to a chicken salad which was served at a lawn party at the Edgewood Congregational church on that evening.

SEN. BOURNE TO SPEAK

CHICAGO, June 20.—It was announced here yesterday that Jonathan Bourne, Jr., United States Senator from Oregon, and Winston Churchill, of Cornish, N. H., will address the legislative conference to be held at Peoria, Ill., June 27 and 28. Senator Bourne will speak on "the Oregon plan" of electing federal senators, and Mr. Churchill will discuss the "short ballot."

The Peoria conference was called by public spirited citizens following recent disclosures of corruption in the Illinois legislature.

The conference will seek to devise ways and means of breaking the rule of corrupt interests in the state government.

LAWRENCE MAN

Says He Saw a Man Jump From Bridge

LAWRENCE, June 20.—The police were notified early yesterday morning that Charles A. Boyer of 44 Parker street had seen a man disappear over the railing of the footpath on the Boston & Lowell railroad bridge, above the Merrimack river, as he was crossing about 12:15. Boyer was walking on the sleepers and saw the man leaning against the railing near the center of the bridge. Suddenly the figure disappeared and there was a splash in the water and a cry.

Boyer could not tell whether the man jumped over, but the height of the railing would tend to preclude a theory of accident, unless the man attempted to climb over the fence, being confused as to his whereabouts. It is the custom with some to walk over the bridge on the footpath, and on reaching the north bank to scale the railing on the track side and walk through the train shed on the sleepers to avoid climbing the long flight of stairs, which are included in the path over the roof of the shed. Boyer hastened to the south end of the bridge and told some trainmen of what he had seen. The police were notified, but no trace of the man who disappeared could be found.

BOY DROWNED

ON THE EVE OF HIS GRADUATION

HOLYOKE, June 20.—While swimming across Hampton pond yesterday Walter Tefft, aged 14, suddenly threw up his hands and sank to the bottom. Young Tefft was subject to epileptic fits and it is believed he was taken with one of these, as he was a good swimmer.

One hundred pleasure seekers at the pond saw the boy sink and several women became hysterical. James Kennedy, an employee of Sheedy's theatre, dived after the body and brought it to the surface about half an hour later. Young Tefft was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. A. Tefft of 12 Willow street, and was to have been graduated from the Elmwood grammar school tonight.

6 O'CLOCK BODY IS LOCATED

Remains of Chas. A. Taylor Will be Brought to Lowell

After a search covering many years, the resting place of the bones of Charles A. Taylor, a soldier of the Sixth Massachusetts regiment, said to have been the first man killed in the civil war, has been found, according to a despatch sent from Baltimore, Md., and tomorrow the remains will be sent to Binghamton and later will be brought to this city and buried beneath the Ladd & Whitney monument in this city.

Ladd, Whitney and Taylor fell during the riot which marked the passage of the Sixth regiment along Pratt street in that city on April 19, 1861.

After the riot Taylor's body was completely lost track of by his friends. The bodies of Ladd and Whitney were returned to this city and now lie beneath the Ladd and Whitney monument in Monument square.

The body of Taylor had not been found, though an unremitting search had been carried on for years. General Edwin F. Jones, commander of the Sixth regiment, when it marched through Baltimore, has for years been personally interested in the search.

It was Gen. Jones, indeed, who was responsible for the beautiful tablet placed upon the Ladd and Whitney monument a year ago last Memorial day in memory of the missing comrades. The memorial was obtained through public subscription, though the movement was started by Gen. Jones.

The inscription on the tablet is as follows:

CHARLES A. TAYLOR
Co. D, 6th M. V. M.
The First to Fall in Defense of the Union
April 19, 1861.

"Nothing is here for tears, nothing to wall,
Or knock the breast, no weakness, no contempt,
Dispraise or blame, nothing but well and fair,
And what may quiet us in a death so noble."

Some time ago, as a last resort, advertisements were inserted in Baltimore papers, one of which was seen by Samuel F. Glenn of that city, who pointed out Taylor's grave in the Methodist cemetery at Lafayette street and Loney's lane, Baltimore. A board at the head of the grave bears the time dimmed inscription, "A soldier of the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment, killed in riot."

This inscription is considered ample identification, for the bodies of all three of the others killed at the same time have long since been identified.

The annual distribution of diplomas and certificates to the graduates of St. Patrick's Boys' and Girls' schools took place at high mass yesterday before a large congregation. The presentation was made by Rev. William O'Brien, P. R., Bro. Edmund, principal of the boys' school, calling the names of the graduates.

The celebrant of the mass was Rev. John J. McHugh, and the choir, directed by Mr. Michael J. Johnson, sang special music for the occasion. The sanctuary choir of 60 voices assisted in the musical program as well as in the responses of the mass. The sermon was preached by Rev. Timothy Callahan. At its conclusion he took occasion to compliment the graduates on the completion of their studies, and the teachers of both on their work of the year, in giving to the young people a proper Catholic training.

The graduates of the boys' school were: James A. Mahoney, John A. O'Brien, Frederick Enwright, John J. Healey, Raymond R. Lynch, Eugene A. Dean, John L. Hamill, John S. Armistead, John J. Keefe, Frederick McCall,

James S. McNally, Patrick O'Hearn and John P. Flannery. Special archdiocesan certificates, awarded by His Grace Archbishop O'Connell, were presented to James A. Mahoney and John A. O'Brien.

The pupils of the girls' school to receive diplomas were Catherine J. Egan, Catherine J. Beane, Mary C. Sullivan and Helen Whelan.

DAMAGE IS GREAT

PITTSBURG, June 20.—Reports received today from the districts out off from communication by storms of Saturday indicate that the damage done in the stricken sections will amount to a much larger sum than was at first reported. Julius Desroche, aged 62 years, was drowned in the Ohio river, as he attempted to reach the north shore of the stream near Brannots Island, Pittsburg, today. The current and high waters overturned his skiff.

At Point Marion, Pa., millions of feet of lumber and hundreds of logs are being carried out of the Cheat river which is nearing flood stage. If the water rises an additional five feet, Point Marion, a town of 600 persons, will be inundated. Another storm of the proportions of a cloudburst visited the district early today followed by fire. Several residences were burned.

At Brownsville the county authorities total the damage to property in that district at $100,000. The Monongahela river there now stages 35 feet and is still rising. The Monongahela river railroad is entirely out of commission, the valley through which it runs being a roaring torrent.

TO SIGN CLAIMS AGREEMENT

LONDON, June 20.—The report that James Bryce, British ambassador at Washington, had been authorized to sign the British-American preliminary claims agreement was officially confirmed by Thomas McKinnon Wood, under secretary of state for foreign affairs, in the commons today. Mr. Wood stated that the foreign office was now in communication with the state department of the United States regarding the publication of the terms of the agreement.

THE WOOD CASE KILLED HIMSELF

Will be Called up Farmhand Took Dose of Strychnine Tomorrow

BOSTON, June 20.—Because his bondsman was not present today the case against Francis J. Wood, a grocer, charged with perjury on the witness stand in the case of William J. Kellher, was continued until tomorrow. Wood who appeared before U. S. Commissioner Hayes waived examination but it was necessary for his bondsman to be present and reconfirm his bond before Commissioner Hayes can hear the case and Wood become a grand jury prisoner. Wood's case will be presented to the federal grand jury which meets on Wednesday in special session.

WEST MEDWAY, June 20.—Waldo Duntun, a farmhand about 22 years old, committed suicide late last night by taking strychnine. An unhappy love affair is said to have furnished the motive. The doctor who was summoned said that Waldo had taken enough strychnine to kill eighty men.

TUGS TO AID STEAMER
HALIFAX, N. S., June 20.—Two powerful tug boats have been sent from here to Sable Island to assist in floating the Norwegian steamer Heimdal. The Heimdal was reported yesterday to have struck a sand bar off the island during a thick fog.

GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE
NORTHAMPTON, June 20.—Frank Moos, the South Hadley tax collector who embezzled $4500 of the town's funds, was today sentenced to three years at hard labor in the Hampshire county jail.

GONE TO WASHINGTON
Leo D. Calnan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius F. Calnan of Forest street, left Lowell Saturday evening for Washington, D. C. to take up his duties of clerk in the department of commerce and labor. Mr. Calnan's work at present will be confined to the departmental census and he assumed his new position today.

TO RETIRE ON FULL PAY

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The Gillette bill to permit Justice Moody of the supreme court to retire on full pay on account of his long continued illness was passed by the house today by unanimous consent.

BOYS DROWNED

Two Lost Their Lives While Bathing

NEW YORK, June 20.—Two boys were drowned in New Jersey yesterday while bathing, one at West Orange and the other at Bordentown. The first was Joseph B. Halprien, 19 years old, the son of Rabbi Samuel Halprien of 131 Spruce street, Newark. The lad went bathing in Cable Round lake, at the top of the Orange mountains, riding out to the lake on his bicycle.

After swimming about for some time he was seen to dive from a stump in the center of the lake. He came to the surface and started for the shore, when he suddenly screamed, threw up his arms and sank. Other boys swam to the place where he went down and dove for him, but without success.

An hour later, however, the body was recovered, and then it was learned that his bathing suit had caught on a branch at the bottom of the lake. The body was taken to Evans' morgue in Orange.

The other victim was Salvatore Locicero, 17 years old, whose father lives in Manhattan. The boy was visiting friends at Bordentown and went bathing in Crosswicks creek. He was swept off his feet by the current and drowned. The body was recovered by John Campbell.

MAN ARRESTED

Is Charged With Complicity in Murder

NEW YORK, June 20.—W. J. Duffy of Brooklyn was today arrested, charged with complicity in the murder of Frederick Devlin who was shot to death in the Waverly hotel on the morning of Feb. 17th last. Two men walked into the hotel that morning with drawn revolvers and demanded money. Devlin handed them fifty cents, declaring it was all he had. As he turned a shot was fired into his back and he died two hours later. The men then hammered James Desamant, the night clerk, into unconsciousness with their revolver butts, rifled the cash drawer of its contents and escaped.

Duffy was arrested for an alleged assault in Long Island City and on his appearance in court was taken to police headquarters and charged with murder.

DEFIED PARENTS

Daughter of Wealthy Man Ran Away and Was Married

NEW YORK, June 20.—Lewis Rahmer, a wealthy lithographer, and his wife are seriously ill at their home, No. 521 West One Hundred and Eleventh street, through grief over the elopement of their daughter, Elsie Vivian Rahmer, a beautiful girl of twenty. She disappeared Tuesday and on Thursday married Edward Gore Dunning, a young photographer, whose home is in Glenbrook, Conn. He had been devoted to her several years and was a welcome caller at the Rahmer home. But because his means were not sufficient to maintain the girl in the luxury to which she was used, her parents refused to allow a wedding.

She is the only child of the Rahmers, who have been driven to nervous prostration. They were under the care of physicians and nurses yesterday.

"Elsie is a foolish, hasty girl," they sent word to a caller. "We had only her best interests at heart and would have allowed her to marry Mr. Dunning when his circumstances improved. But she would not wait. We have nothing to say about forgiveness yet."

Meanwhile the girl who didn't let money stand between her and her suit, was enjoying her honeymoon at the home of her uncle, M. H. Rosenblatt, at Grand View, on the Hudson.

"Ed and I loved each other and that was all that was necessary," she declared. "I do not want luxury, and will be glad and happy to get along with whatever my husband is able to provide. Papa and mamma are needlessly worried now, but I will go down and see them in a day or so, and everything will be all right."

The first intimation that the Rahmers had of the defiance of their wishes was on Tuesday, when a messenger handed Mr. Rahmer, at his place of business, a typewritten note, which read:

"I am going away with Ed and am going to marry him. You will hear from me when the ceremony is over.—Elsie."

Determined to prevent the marriage, Mr. Rahmer hurried to the home of Dr. Edwin Barringer, No. 110 East One Hundred and Tenth street, whose wife, also a physician, is Dunning's sister. Neither Dunning nor Elsie was there, and the Barringers declined to tell the angry father where they were.

Next day Mr. Rahmer visited the home of M. H. Rosenblatt, a brother of Sig. Rosenblatt, the rich Wall street broker. Mrs. Rosenblatt is Mr. Rahmer's sister, but she likewise refused to give any information. As a matter of fact, Elsie and young Dunning were in the Rosenblatt home at the time, arranging for their wedding. The father suspected this, but did not see the runaways.

Thursday evening word came to him by telephone that the marriage had been performed that afternoon. He was taken ill at the news, and has been in bed ever since. He was not given any details of the marriage, and until yesterday was he sure there had been one. Then a note appeared in all the papers, saying the Rev. Dr. Franklin Babbitt had performed the ceremony at Orangetown, a suburb of Nyack.

Friday the runaway bride called up her home and asked that her violin and music be sent to Grand View. She is a talented musician, and needed only her violin to complete her happiness.

STATEHOOD BILL SIGNED

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The president signed the statehood bill at 1.40 p. m. today.

THE WYMAN WILL

SALEM, June 20.—Mrs. Mary Cutler of Andover, who was expected to be contestant of the will of the late Isaac Wyman of Marblehead who left his millions to Princeton university, appeared through her counsel, William Odlin, in the Essex probate court here today and withdrew her appearance in the case. Attorney Odlin stated that further investigation had convinced himself that his client had no ground for contesting the will. William Hill, counsel for the will, said that there had been no compromise or had there been any promise of a payment as a condition of a settlement.

The only contestants remaining are four named Mudge, living in Lynn and Peabody. They are cousins of the testator and will be given a hearing in the probate court next Wednesday.

BOAT WAS LOST

All the Passengers Were Rescued

CHICAGO, June 20.—The steamer Lola, a pleasure boat plying between Kensington and Riverdale park, sank yesterday in the Kalamazoo river while en route to the park with 100 passengers. All on board were rescued by three or four launches that hurried to the disabled boat. The vessel sprang a leak when under the North Kensington & Eastern railroad bridge and was run aground.

LIQUOR SEIZURES

Two Made by Liquor Squad Yesterday

Sergt. Alexander Duncan and Inspector William H. Grady, of the liquor squad, made two seizures of liquor yesterday morning.

They visited the house of Louis Pouris at 462 Adams street, corner of Market street, where a small quantity of beer and whiskey was taken.

The restaurant of Joseph Lescarbeau at the corner of Aiken and Cheever streets was also visited and after a careful search of the premises a quantity of whiskey was found.

The cases will be called in court during the week, when Pouris and Lescarbeau will each be charged with the illegal keeping of liquor.

MAN INDICTED

On Charge of Larceny and Arrested

Angeles Diamantopoulos was arrested by Inspector Philip Dwyer and Special Officer John Regis this morning on a capias issued by the superior court on a charge of larceny. He was taken to the police station where he was booked and will later appear in court. He was a collector or agent for a local insurance company.

SURPRISE PARTY

HENRY ALLEN PRESENTED A GOLD WATCH

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Allen of Chelmsford street was the scene of much enjoyment last Friday evening, when a large number of friends of their son Henry assembled and presented him with a handsome gold watch. The presentation speech was made by Arthur Chadwick, and Master Henry responded gracefully, although he was entirely taken by surprise. Musical program was carried out that proved to be of a highly entertaining order, including the following: Piano solos by Orin Allen, Joseph Higgenbotham and Miss Agnes Contu; whistling solos by William Carr and Percy Willis. Games were played and a general good time prevailed. During the evening refreshments were served.

EASON APPOINTED

IS MADE NATIONAL LEAGUE UMPIRE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 20.—Mal Eason, formerly connected with the Eastern league and at present an umpire in the Southern Association, has been appointed an umpire in the National league, according to an announcement here. Southern league president Kavanaugh has offered Eason's vacant berth to Bill Hart, the old-time Pittsburg pitcher, who has been pitching in the Southern league for several years, being a member of the Chattanooga team now.

THE VALE OARSMEN

GALE'S FERRY, Conn., June 20.—Owing to the heat only light work was given the Yale oarsmen today. The four rowed a mile up stream and then returned to quarters. The varsity eight devoted most of its time on the water to trying racing starts. The work of the freshman eight was practically the same as that of the varsity. In the varsity four Bogue replaced Patterson at number 2, the latter taking the corresponding seat in the second four vacated by Bogue.

PRESENTED A SWORD

A sword was presented to Capt. Irving T. Gumb, of Co. H, L. H. S. regiment, by members of his company. The presentation speech was made by Second Lieutenant Clark. He was ably assisted by Second Sergeant Rhodes in the work. Captain Gumb was greatly surprised and thanked the members of the company heartily.

ARMY OF CATERPILLARS

ST. JOHN, N. D., June 20.—An army of caterpillars along the Canadian Pacific railroad in York and Sunbury counties is making trouble for the trainmen and delaying heavy trains on grades. In York county, near the Sunbury county line, the caterpillars cover the tracks so completely that not a glimpse of steel can be seen. When the wheels of the locomotives strike the worms left they turn uselessly as if the rails were souped. The caterpillars have stripped the trees of leaves for several miles. The railroad people are attaching steam pipes to the locomotives in order to clear the rails of the pest.

Miss Catherine F. Daly is visiting Dr. and Mrs. Keegan of Arlington Heights and is also being entertained by Miss Teresa Powell of East Boston, formerly of Winchester.

NIGHT EDITION

MURDER IS SUSPECTED

Gryce May Have Killed His Wife
and Child

LANCASTER, Pa., June 20.—J. C. Gryce, a member of the senior class of the Millersville Normal school and a resident of Sharpsburg, Md., was placed under arrest here last night on suspicion of having murdered his wife and two weeks' old baby. Gryce is 22 years old and his wife, who was Miss Ellen Dorsey, also of Sharpsburg, was 20 years old.

The couple had been boarding here and last Thursday evening Gryce hired a carriage, stating he was going to take his wife to the railway station to send her to her home. The last seen of the woman and the baby was when they entered the carriage. A storm was raging and neighbors expostulated against taking the woman out in such weather. Gryce said what he did was none of their business.

ROOSEVELT WEDDING

Many Valuable Gifts Received by the Young Couple

NEW YORK, June 20.—Weather typical of the month of brides and grooms attended the wedding day of Miss Eleanor Butler Alexander and Theodore Roosevelt, jr., eldest son of ex-President Roosevelt, whose nuptials at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church today promised to furnish one of the most notable society events of the season. It seemed likely that the spacious edifice where the wedding was to take place would find its capacity taxed to accommodate the guests who had signed their intention to be present. Then the promised attendance of the groom's distinguished father whose welcome home from abroad fired New York on Saturday so stimulated popular interest in the function that there was every promise of record throngs in the vicinity of the church edifice long before 4 o'clock, the hour set for the ceremony.

The church today was beautifully decorated with white and blue blossoms, roses, lilies of the valley and peonies predominating, and everything was in readiness for the ceremony to be performed by the Rev. Dr. Sanders, a great uncle of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Gordon Russell, of Cranford, N. J.

The arrangements included provision for a musical program while the guests were assembling and provided for the bride being given away in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Henry Addison Alexander.

The bride's costume is of conventional white with a point lace and orange blossoms. Her train of honor is Mrs. Snowden Fahnestock, whose wedding took place on June 1, while Miss Alexander as a bridesmaid, while the bridesmaids of today are the Misses Harriet and Janet Alexander, cousins of the bride, Miss Mary W. Deane and Miss Jessie Huntington-Drake of Paris.

Kermit Roosevelt is his brother's best man and the ushers are John W. Cutler of Brookline, Mass., a classmate at Harvard of the bridegroom; Elliot Cutler, his brother; Folton Cutting, (Franklin) Chapman, E. Morgan Gilbert; Francis Roche, George Emile Roosevelt, Monroe Douglas Robinson and Hamilton Fish, jr.

The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the home of Mrs. Alexander, the bride's uncle and aunt, the large hall of which was thought best suited for the accommodation of the large number of bridal guests. After the reception the young couple will go on their honeymoon to California and will spend some time there.

The bride's gifts were numerous and valuable.

The engagement of Theodore Roosevelt, jr., and Miss Alexander, was announced last February. The groom is 22 years of age and his bride 21.

FISHING PARTY
LOWELL MEN GETTING READY FOR THE FIRST OF SEASON

Harry Gonzales, Charlie McFarland, Jimmie Donohoe, Charlie Warren, Capt. Carr and their company of fishermen are preparing for their first deep sea fishing trip of the season. They have talked with Captain Peabody of Salem and have engaged his new boat, "Elseneur" which he had built during the winter at a cost of $10,000 and when the Lowell parties go down to enjoy a few days' outing they will find the greatest boat they ever left the wharf. It is a twenty-five ton vessel with staterooms and water tank, and is the grandest of the vessels that leaves Salem harbor. Captain Peabody for years has piloted the Lowell parties who went deep sea fishing.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her

Knoxville, Iowa.—"I suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more and was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and am glad to say that these medicines have done more for me than anything else and I had the best physicians here. I can do my work and rest well at night. I believe there is nothing like the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 3, Knoxville, Iowa.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, leucorrhoea, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

HIBERNIAN PARADE

Chief Marshal O'Sullivan Sends Initial Communication

And now for the big Hibernian parade and convention in this city.

Chief Marshal Humphrey O'Sullivan of the monster Hibernian parade, which is to be the great feature of the convention to be held here in August, has established headquarters at room 10, Associate building, and has started in on plans with the end in view of making Hibernian Week, the greatest gala week in the history of Lowell.

Today Mr. O'Sullivan went out the following communication to every county and division president of the state:

Initial communication and invitation to participate in the parade from the office of the chief marshal, June 20, 1910.

With the day of the parade only nine weeks distant, the units that will comprise it so widely scattered, and so many details to be taken care of in order to make this state parade one that the ancient order will be proud of, and seeing that the state officers have entrusted the duties of chief marshal to me, as a personal favor I ask the county and division officers to get busy immediately and at your earliest convenience advise the chief of staff:

If your organization will participate in the parade; how many men you expect to bring;

If there are any requirements that you will need on your arrival in Lowell.

Answers to these questions will enable the staff to have a proper conception of the number of men who will be in line on that day.

The chief marshal will offer suitable prizes to:

ATTORNEY GENERAL
Brings Suit Against Five Packing Houses in Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 20.—Attorney General Major began today proceedings against five meat packing companies today by filing quo warranto information in the supreme court.

The companies attacked are the Armour Packing Co., Morris & Co., Swift & Co., Hammond Packing Co. and St. Louis Dressing & Provision Co.

The Armour, Swift and Morris companies are charged with violating the anti-trust law and the Hammond & St. Louis Dressing and Provision Co. as subsidiary companies of the National Packing Co., with conspiracy to control the meat packing business in Missouri.

The five companies are named in two petitions which ask that the corporations be excluded from all corporate rights, and their licenses be forfeited and that all or such portion of their property as the court may deem proper be confiscated or in lieu thereof a fine be imposed.

The Armour, Swift and Morris are charged with having entered into a conspiracy to control the prices to be paid by retail and wholesale dealers for dressed meats, butter, eggs, poultry, game, dairy and agricultural products and by-products from the business of slaughtering livestock.

The second count of the petition charges that the three packing companies conspired to restrain trade and destroy competition in the purchase and sale of meat products, livestock, poultry, butter and eggs.

The National Packing Co., the information filed in New Jersey in 1902 with a capital stock of $15,000,000 to engage in meat packing and to hold stock of any other corporation.

"The National Packing Co." the petition says, "was not organized in good faith for the purpose of engaging in the business authorized by its charter but as a corporation scheme to effect an unlawful trust."

Attorney General Major after he filed the suits, said:

"The suits were filed as a result of the examination conducted recently before Daniel W. Dillon who was named by the supreme court to preside at the hearings. The Hammond Packing Co. and the St. Louis Dressing & Provision Co. are owned and controlled in every matter and detail both in the purchase of livestock and in the sale of dressed and finished products by the National Packing Co. of New Jersey."

The National Packing Co., the hearing developed, is owned by three big packers. Swift owns seven-fifths, Armour six-fifths and Morris two-fifths.

BOY DROWNED

Ellsworth Hart Lost His Life

Ellsworth Hart, aged nine years, residing at 114 Chapel street lost his life in the waters of Hale's brook in the rear of the city farm about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Young Hart and several other boys were in bathing and it is alleged that some one pushed him down under the water. When he failed to come to the surface the boys dove for him and locating his body took him to the shore.

Two of the boys, William Quirey of Chapel street and Thomas Mann of Elm street ran to the city farm and notified John Mahoney, one of the clerks.

Mr. Mahoney sent Officer Danahy of the farm to the brook, but when the latter arrived there he found that the boy was dead.

The body was taken to the city farm where the boy who is

COMMITTED SUICIDE SECRETARY KNOX

17 Year Old Girl Was a Resident of This City

BOSTON, June 20.—When Medical Examiner Leary called, at the request of a South end physician, at the lodging house, 17A West Newton street, about 9 o'clock Saturday morning he was informed by the landlady, Mrs. Evangelina Louise Stock, a widow, that a pretty, black-haired girl had killed herself by gas in a room on the fifth floor. The girl, Mrs. Rock said, was her cousin, Helen M. Shields, aged 17, formerly of Clinton and Lowell.

The death of the young woman, according to the medical examiner, seemed to have upset the landlady considerably. The latter said that she disliked the duty of informing the girl's mother that she was dead. She knew it would break her heart.

Dr. Leary ordered the body removed to the City hospital morgue, and returned to his office without informing the police of the suicide, because, he said, he pitied the girl and desired to make her death easier for her mother to bear by not giving it publicly.

Yesterday morning, after Dr. Leary had completed his autopsy on the body at the City hospital morgue, three women and four men appeared there. One of the women was Mrs. Rock, another was Mrs. Elizabeth Shields, the mother of the suicide, while the identity of the third woman was not learned by the morgue attendants. One of the men was George Shields, a brother of the dead girl; another was a relative by marriage. Who the other men were was not stated.

Mrs. Shields said she had been told that her daughter was wearing several rings when they were taken from the house on West Newton street. A morgue employee produced the rings—a plain gold baby ring that the girl had worn from childhood, a heavy gold band ring, a gold ring set with pearls and emeralds, and a ring that belonged to Margaret before her death, and a gold ring containing a small diamond that Mrs. Rock claimed to have given her.

The mother said she would take the rings, and they were delivered to her. Then Mrs. Shields, according to the medical examiner and employees at the morgue, said she did not intend to claim the body of her daughter. "Let the city bury her," she said.

The mother's remark irritated Dr. Leary and he demanded that the rings be returned to him. Mrs. Shields passed them back to the party left the hospital, but not before Dr. Leary made it plain to them what his plans for today would be.

The medical examiner went to the East Dedham street station and told Sergeant Munro the story of the death of the Shields girl. Detective Irwin and Patrolman Trainor were sent to the West Newton street lodging house, being instructed to claim anything that belonged to the girl. The doctor told the police it was his intention to report the case to the overseers of the poor today. He could not understand why relatives and friends who appeared prosperous should permit the girl's body to go to a pauper's grave.

A search showed that Mrs. Shields' personal belongings were few and of little value.

Mrs. Rock volunteered the information that within a year or two Mrs. Shields had buried two other daughters, who died suddenly. "It took money to bury them," she said. "I guess the woman cannot afford to bury this girl."

Mrs. Rock said the mother of the girl lives at 28 May street, Lowell, and that she has one daughter and two sons living.

"The girl was not really my cousin," said Mrs. Rock. "Back in the past, it is of us had ancestors that were blood relations. I regarded it that we were simply cousins by formality or courtesy." It is the way that Mrs. Rock expressed her relationship to the girl.

While she lived in the south end Mrs. Shields had several occupations. Once she was employed as a stenographer in South Boston and later in a lunch room on Milk street.

What Girl's Aunt Says
Miss Helen M. Shields was the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Shields, who lives at 28 May street in this city. Mrs. Mary McDonald of 38 May street is her aunt. Mrs. Shields, mother of the young woman, has been rooming with her sister, Mrs. McDonald. Mrs. Shields was called to Boston Saturday by telephone by a report of her daughter's death and has not returned. Mrs. McDonald said she did not receive any word from her sister since she left for Boston.

Mrs. McDonald said her niece did not visit at her house frequently and the news of her death was a great surprise. She said she was waiting the return of her sister to learn the cause of the girl's death.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Lakeview theatre opens its regular season tonight, with that beautiful rural drama called "The Dairy Farm," from the pen of Eleanor Merzon. This beautiful play has been played in New York for over 200 nights and has been pronounced by both press and public as being better than either "The Old Homestead" or "As Ye Sow."

Mr. James Thatcher, who is the leading man, was the original Quincey Adams Sawyer and has had a great deal of experience in stock work. Miss Florine Farr who will play opposite to Mr. Thatcher has been the leading woman for stock companies in Philadelphia and Detroit. The rest of the company all come with the highest standing from the various companies they have been members of, and Lakeview theatre bids fair to have the best stock company that has ever played at the park.

The theatre has been entirely renovated and will be quite a surprise to the patrons of this cozy little playhouse. Seats for the opening performances are on sale at Carter & Sherburne's drug store.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today the Theatre Voyons shows "How Champions Are Won and Lost," posed by James J. Corbett, and at this time when so much interest is manifested in boxing it will be especially interesting. In this picture Corbett shows the different styles of boxing, the different blows, boxes, three rounds, introduces a series of training stunts and concludes with his famous shadow boxing. He is the cleverest boxer before the public, and, like his vaudeville sketches, this picture is full of interest from start to finish. Another picture that will appeal strongly to the lovers of sport is "The Russian Lion," a dramatic story picture whose plot hinges on a championship wrestling bout. A laughable comedy, a strong dramatic and several pleasing musical selections complete a wonderfully good show.

THE KAISER'S INJURIES

POTSDAM, June 20.—The Emperor's physicians issued a statement yesterday with reference to the affection of the knee from which he is suffering. They state that the inflammation is taking a most favorable course and that the discharge has now almost ceased. They deny absolutely the story published yesterday morning in the Lokal Anzeiger, declaring that the trouble is not fanciful in character and that no operation was performed yesterday, adding that Dr. Blier who was said by the paper to have been the operating surgeon, did not visit the palace yesterday.

The whole story is defined by the physicians as an invention, and a complete denial has been made, to set the alarm of the public at rest.

Has Decided to Remain in the Cabinet

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Definite announcement last night of the decision of Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania to remain in the cabinet as secretary of state during the remainder of Mr. Taft's term of office confirmed the intimations to the same effect received yesterday from Philadelphia.

Pennsylvania republicans who are here make no secret of their disappointment at Mr. Knox's yielding to the urgency of the president and at the dashing of their hopes that he would become their gubernatorial nominee this year. In a formal statement issued here last night, Mr. Knox declared that, provided the tender of the nomination had come to him as expressing the real desire of the party in Pennsylvania, he would have accepted the nomination, but for the request of the president that he remain in the cabinet.

It was made known late last night in an unmistakable way that the president regards Mr. Knox's decision as definitely refusing the rumors in circulation for some time to the effect that the secretary is not altogether happy in his position.

The president was reported as even anxious that the outcome should indicate beyond question that he regards Mr. Knox as a great lawyer and a great secretary of state. It was said Mr. Knox has played an important part in all of the important acts and policies of the administration.

Attention was called to Mr. Taft's studied policy of non-interference with the heads of the executive departments and it was pointed out that in every respect Mr. Knox's acts and decisions have had the unreserved support of the president. It was made plain that for every reason Mr. Taft regards the secretary's decision with more than ordinary satisfaction.

PERIN'S HIPPODROME

Another big bill is announced for this week, which started with a matinee this afternoon at Washington Park, and from the standard set by the management for the program of last week it seems that the bill has been reached in the excellence of the acts offered, but when you read the list for this week you will see that the high standard of the program presented for the first week is kept up.

The bill offered today contained many acts that are new and unique, among which are Klutzing's animals, showing dogs, rabbits, doves and pigeons in a pleasing and diversified act, showing how trainers can induce into small dumb animals the knowledge of human affairs, Edwin George, the comedy juggler in side splitting and laughable feats, Little, Alright and company, in a novelty act direct from Japan, showing the kind of entertainment given in that flowery kingdom.

A big feature act for the week is Huber's Trained Bears, a group of five big beautiful black bears that perform all sorts of tricks imaginable at the direction of their trainer, Madam Huber. One of the bears who is better known as Judy will during their act perform the Salome dance and she is said to be a scream in her grotesque movements.

Prof. DeNoto and his Genoa band will render new selections of popular and classic music being led by that eccentric leader, DeNoto himself, who in his one week's stay at the park has installed himself as a favorite with the people of our city.

The motion pictures will be seen in the evenings and are entirely new; also the funny clowns with Dan DuCrow in new stunts that will be laughable and uproariously comic.

The Hippodrome will give two performances daily, matinee 2.15 and nights at 8.15. Don't fail to attend and see for yourself the magnitude of the bills offered.

CONGRESS LEADERS

Expect That Adjournment Will Take Place Saturday

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Congress leaders confidently expect to wind up the business of the present session this week and adjourn not later than Saturday. If the session is carried beyond that time it will be because of the amendments to the general deficiency bill or complications may arise from the passage of the "omnibus" public building bill. Some members look for adjournment as early as Thursday.

It is pointed out by republican leaders that there never has been a congress where a president has obtained the amount of legislation that has resulted from the demands of President Taft. Starting in with a demand for revision of the tariff he procured this at an extraordinary session. Then at the beginning of the present session he demanded legislation amendatory of the interstate commerce law, enabling the president to pursue a forward conservation policy, admitting Arizona and New Mexico to statehood, creating postal savings banks and on the subject of the use of injunctions.

Bills on all these subjects except anti-injunction have passed both branches of congress. The anti-injunction measure will have to wait until next session, but it is said the prospects are good for its passage at that time.

All of the regular army supply bills have passed both houses except the general deficiency bill. That was passed by the house Saturday and will be reported to the senate not later than Tuesday. Unless there is trouble over a scheme for the retirement of superannuated employees at the government, its passage will not take more than one day.

The postal bank bill is still before the senate. It came from the house in the form of an amended bill and Sen. Carter moved that the senate concur in the house amendment. Opposition developed and the motion has been debated intermittently since the bill returned from the house. President Taft approves the house bill and it seems reasonably certain that the senate will accept it.

The rivers and harbors bill is waiting the president's signature and he will soon have the omnibus public building bill which reported to the house yesterday. With both of these measures before him, he is in position to command that action be taken on such remaining bills as he feels should be passed.

President Taft will sign the statehood bill today.

In the last few days of this session there will be a flood of requests in both branches of congress for unanimous consent to take up measures of the individual members. Many are doomed to disappointment, for neither branch of congress, as a whole, shows much patience in dealing with measures which have not commanded attention until adjournment is imminent.

POLICE OFFICERS

SAY THERE WAS ATTEMPTED MURDER AND SUICIDE

PORTLAND, Me., June 20.—An attempted murder and then suicide was the solution entertained by the police officers here yesterday as the result of the autopsy performed upon the body of Walter G. Hauscomb, who was found dead in a bed in the Rickford livery stable at Gorham Saturday with the unconscious form of Mrs. May Stewart beside him. The result of the autopsy therefore disposed of the theory that a third party may have been concerned in the tragedy.

Yesterday's autopsy disclosed the fact that Hauscomb's wound was caused by a pistol ball that passed through the pleura but did not touch the heart, and that death did not ensue for some time after the shooting. Mrs. Stewart, who was shot in the head is still at the Maine general hospital in a critical condition. The woman had been separated from her husband for some time and had been on friendly terms. It is said, with Hauscomb, Hauscomb, who was a hostler, was a native of Rochester, N. H. The cause of the shooting is not known.

GLIDDEN TOUR CONTEST

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., June 20.—Nineteen contestants in the Glidden tour contest, accompanied by press cars and the officials, arrived yesterday afternoon between 12 and 1 o'clock. Two accidents occurred on the road from Little Rock. The Carter car, No. 198, broke the right rear axle a short distance from Little Rock and was disqualified. The Lexington car, No. 102, was also disqualified by breaking the frame. Both cars have ordered extra parts and will continue through the run to Chicago.

HE IS AFTER WALSH HUNTING EXPEDITION

U. S. District Attorney Trying to Whitney and Party Sail for the Arctic Region

BOSTON, June 20.—"There isn't a word of truth in them," said U. S. Dist. Atty. Asa P. French last evening to a reporter who asked him concerning the correctness of published stories that he intends to have several Boston bankers before the federal grand jury at a special sitting this week to consider the operations of the faro gang. "I shall continue by investigations," he said, "but at present I cannot say what I will do, for I have no definite plans. Such stories are entirely without foundation. At present I have no intention of causing the wholesale arrests, in this case, which have been suggested in the stories in some of the newspapers."

"Martin J. Walsh is the man I am after now and I shall not rest until he has been arrested and prosecuted. We have heard from him all over the world. We do not know where he is at present, but we will find him."

It has been common report that several well known bankers, business, professional men and some politicians were taken in by members of the faro gang and fleeced out of thousands of dollars. Many of these men have denied that they ever knew any of the members of the gang or that they ever were fleeced by the sharpers. They would be most unwilling witnesses and for this reason it would possibly be

be useless to call them before the grand jury.

Francis J. Wood, the grocer friend of William J. Kelley, who is charged with perjury, was given a hearing at 10 o'clock this morning before U. S. Commissioner Hayes.

Kelley has not yet been able to secure bondsmen. He spent a quiet day at the Charles street jail yesterday and was not permitted to receive visitors. His meals were sent to him from a hotel, and he ate heartily, smoked almost continuously and late in the afternoon had a long sleep.

Kelley's friends are finding it difficult to meet the bail requirement of not less than three and not more than six men who can qualify each in the sum of $50,000 unencumbered real estate. The federal authorities are not yet willing to accept a bonding company as surety and in case they do the bonding company may ask to be secured.

While Kelley is hopeful of success many of his friends fear he will be obliged to remain in jail until his case is finally disposed of next fall. Kelley is peevish at times though as a rule he is cheerful.

U. S. Dist. Atty. French said last night that he has not as yet been approached by Kelley's counsel and friends in the matter of offering bail for the prisoner.

BOSTON, June 20.—Her hold filled with trinkets for Igloo dwellers of the Frozen North and cabins decorated with big game guns and an abundance of ammunition, the steamship Beothic, chartered by Harry Whitney of New Haven, Conn., and Paul J. Rainey of Cleveland, O., for a hunting expedition in the Arctic, sailed from Pier No. 3 of the New Haven docks in South Boston yesterday.

Flags were flying and whistles snatched from most of the craft in the harbor as the Beothic swung into the channel under the command of Capt. Bartlett, who made the trip with Peary. Others on board were Dr. Johnson of Lexington, and Hugh M. Ingham, of New York.

A party of New York and Boston society folk were on the pier to see the sportsmen off.

The Beothic is chartered in the name

of Mr. Rainey and the expedition is called the Rainey hunting expedition. Speculation as to whether Mr. Whitney would recover Dr. Cook's records at Etah remained unaltered by the last word of Captain Bartlett who said, with a smile, "we probably will not bother to take the time to hunt up Cook's records."

The crew is a seasoned one in the Arctic and the ship is sheathed with two-inch steel plates to withstand the ice pressures. An immense quantity of supplies had been put aboard for trading with the natives and for the consumption of the sportsmen and crew. Among the supplies were 20 barrels of sugar, 10 barrels of corn meal and 400 pounds of tobacco.

Clearance papers were taken out for North Sydney, C. B., where the Beothic will take on bunker coal.

Unknown Man Dead at Worcester Hospital Held by the Hatch Co. Saturday

HAD TIES BOUGHT AT GILBRIDE'S STORE

Was Injured in Railroad Yard and Did Not Recover Consciousness—About 50 Years Old

An unknown man died at the City hospital at Worcester last night and the police of that city are of the opinion that the man may belong in Lowell owing to the fact that found in the dead man's pockets were ties which bear the name of a Lowell firm.

The man was found lying in the Worcester railroad yards Saturday, unconscious and injured. He was removed to the City hospital and died without regaining consciousness, so that no facts concerning his identity or the accident in which he was hurt could be obtained.

The body is that of a man about 50 years of age, some 5 feet, 8 inches tall, with iron gray hair and long reddish moustache, and blue eyes. The nose is large and slightly twisted to the right.

The man wore a suit of black and gray stripes and a black and white outing shirt.

In a bundle which he had near him when found were two ties bought at Gilbride's department store of this city. There were also two blue shirts in the bundle, and two ties bought from a furnisher named Currier whose location is unknown. There were two pairs of glasses in one of the pockets.

FIRST BALLOON

OF GLIDDEN ASCENSION TO GO UP WEDNESDAY

The first balloon ascension of the season from this city will be held next Wednesday afternoon, about four o'clock, that is if the weather permits. It is expected that during the summer months there will be two ascensions a week from the yard of the Lowell Gas Light Co. in School street.

Wednesday's ascension will be in the big balloon "Massachusetts" and the pilot will be Charles J. Glidden. Accompanying him will be John J. Van Housen of South Framingham.

The latter is going on as an international pilot and Wednesday's trip will be his third one. The third passenger will be L. A. Brown, city editor of the Boston Journal.

J. B. Benton, city editor of the Boston Transcript, and J. Walter Flag of Worcester, both of whom licensed pilots, will take up a party of friends later in the week.

It is expected that the prevailing winds here at this time of year will be somewhere from the south, a point which favors flights into New Hampshire. As long as the wind is somewhere from the south, everything will be well. West or northwest winds must be avoided by the aeronauts, however, lest they be blown toward the ocean and out to sea.

It is calculated that a flight of about three hours may be made from this city for some 50 or 60 miles into New Hampshire.

HERMIT'S WILL

To be Fought by Brother and Nephews

CHESHIRE, Conn., June 20.—Notice of a contest over the will of Joseph Hull, 93 years old, who has lived the life of a hermit for the greater portion of the time and who at his death bequeathed $100,000 to the Baptist association of Connecticut, has been filed in the probate court here by a brother and nephews.

In the full home, inside of which no one had been for years, were found two wills, one so old that it was falling to pieces and the second and later one, in which the Baptist association was the beneficiary.

Under the floor were found two bags, each containing $20 in gold and a number of mortgage notes, dating back so far that the givers in most cases are dead. There was also found a number of savings bank books, interest on the deposits of which had not been figured for 50 years or more. A stubborn contest is looked for.

ENCOUNTERED A DISTURBANCE

MANILA, June 20.—The steamer Mongolia of the Pacific Mail S. S. Co., from San Francisco May 24 via Honolulu and Yokohama, which arrived today, reports having experienced a severe seismic disturbance when off the Pescadore Islands near Formosa on last Friday.

The employees of the C. F. Hatch Co. held an enjoyable outing at Camp Waldheim on the banks of the Concord river in Billerica Saturday afternoon, at the invitation of Miss May Preston. Although the rain descended in torrents in this city during the noon hour and early part of the afternoon, that portion of Billerica where the camp is located was one of the few places where the rain did not visit. A light shower during the early part of the evening made the merry-makers run for shelter, but on the whole the affair proved to be a grand success.

The party left Lowell at noon and arrived at the camp in due time. The first thing on the program was a baseball game between the Unedeads and the Butter Thins, the former team winning by the close score of 6 to 5.

Games followed the game. The winners in the three-legged event were Miss Ella O'Connell and Miss Marie Rousillon, while Miss Elizabeth Drain and Miss Cora Rock took the second place. The sack races were run off at intervals, several winners being announced. They were Misses Florence Queen, Stella Marshall, Margaret Doris and Mary Elmer. Then came the fat woman's race, which was captured by Dora Pollard, while the thin woman's event went to Florence Queen. The girls' race was won by Margaret Doris.

The last event on the program was a football game. Rules regulating the game were disregarded, and while in the bundle, and two ties bought from a furnisher named Currier whose location is unknown. There were two pairs of glasses in one of the pockets.

Following the game, refreshments were served and an entertainment program was carried out. The party left the camp for home about 8 o'clock.

CLOSING ADDRESS

AT WISCONSIN WAS DELIVERED BY GERMAN AMBASSADOR

MADISON, Wis., June 20.—Count Von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States, delivered the baccalaureate address at the opening of the university of Wisconsin's commencement here yesterday.

Speaking on the subject "Social Reforms in Germany," Count Von Bernstorff said in part:

"The ambition of the masses of the German nation is not so much for economic amelioration and material advantage as for education. The masses see in education an endless perspective and their thirst for knowledge impels them to seek an education. All means of extending and perfecting advantages for securing an education are seized with zeal and often with passion."

HARVARD MACHINE DAMAGED

CAMBRIDGE, June 20.—An accident again prevented J. V. Martin from making a trial flight in the aeroplane Harvard I at Soldiers field early today. While running the machine along the ground, testing the brakes, one of the front wheels was smashed and repairs will have to be made before a flight is attempted.

THE BUTLER CUP SKETCH OF COL. ROOSEVELT REPLYING TO MAYOR GAYNOR'S SPEECH

Won By Sons of St. George

(Photos by American Press Association.)

By defeating the Manchester United Odd Fellows at cricket Saturday, the Sons of St. George, became the owner of the handsome silver loving cup presented by Cong. Butler Ames a few years ago. The first year the cup was won by the Sons of St. George, but last year matters were reversed and the Odd Fellows captured the trophy. Saturday's game was the deciding one and the Sons of St. George won the contest by a score of 53 to 59, the winning team having lost but three wickets.

The game was played on the Bunting course and the feature was the batting of David Bird who scored 33 runs and was "not out" when the game was called.

At the conclusion of the match President George Emsley of the Merrimack Valley League presented the cup to Capt. David Bird of the Sons, while each member of the winning team was given a gold mounted French briar pipe.

Owing to the inclement weather the long list of sports suffered considerably and the midway which usually adds to the delight of the afternoon lost much of its splendor.

One of the most interesting of the sports was the running race for men over 50, won by Peter Caddell in regular professional time.

REPLY TO PROTEST

WASHINGTON, June 20.—President Madriz, of Nicaragua, has drawn from this government a sharp reply to the protest he made to President Taft that the United States prolonged the war in the little republic because this government refused to allow the bombardment of Bluefields or to allow the Venus to maintain a blockade there.

Consul Olivares at Managua has been furnished with a statement the consul has been directed to hand to Madriz. It observes that if any violation of neutrality has occurred it was when the Venus sailed from New Orleans on an expedition of the Madriz faction. Madriz protested not to the United States alone, but to all the South American and Central American republics.

CHILDREN'S DAY

ENJOYABLE CONCERT AT FIFTH STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

The children's day concert at the Fifth Street Baptist church was held last evening. There was a large attendance of members of the church and Sunday school. The church was prettily decorated with laurel, daisies, roses, lilies and ferns. Nearly all of the scholars of the Sunday school participated in the concert, which was given under the direction of Isaac B. Thomas, superintendent of members of the church and Sunday school. The close of the concert was most striking. It was an emblematic play, called "Make the World Brighter," and 12 young ladies gave it. The emblem was a globe, representing the world, of flowers, and illuminated with incandescent lights.

THREE WERE KILLED

Twenty-Five Others Injured in Railroad Accident

NORWICH, N. Y., June 20.—A passenger train loaded with emigrants on their way to the west, running as the second section of No. 5, the Chicago and North Western, was wrecked at 2.15 yesterday morning. Three passengers were killed and 25 were injured, several seriously. The wreck occurred when the emigrant train dived into a locomotive running light.

FRANK GISLER, aged 18, bound from Switzerland to Sacramento, Calif.

JOHN JOSEPH BLANK, aged 41, bound from Switzerland to San Francisco.

JOHN JOHANSON, aged 70, bound from Sweden to the Lynn Center, Ill. The engineer and fireman of the train escaped serious injury, as if by a miracle.

The engine, running light, was returning to Sydney from Guilford summit, where it had been sent to assist a coal train over the heavy grade.

The second section of No. 5 had passed, but for some unexplained reason the engine was dropping back. Sydney, when at a sharp curve collision came with the heavily loaded passenger train, which was running about 30 miles an hour up the heavy grade.

The light engine, making about 25 miles an hour, was quickly sent from Norwich, carrying physicians and assistance, and the dead and injured were brought to this village, where they were cared for at the railroad Y. M. C. A. building. There is no hospital in Norwich.

It is believed that Johanson died of shock. No bruises could be found on his body.

BOY WAS SAFE DURING ROBBERY

While Posse of 1000 Men Accepted Drink Searched for Him and Lost $15,000

QUINCY, June 20.—While eight year old Loretto Padman was eating a big dinner at the Chardon Street Home in Boston yesterday, his parents, living at 83 Copeland street, were frantic.

They, with over 1000 people, were searching all over this city to find the little fellow who had been missing since Saturday afternoon.

Ring Fire Alarm

The fire alarm was rung at 12.15 yesterday afternoon from City square, and people who rushed to the square were told of the missing boy and asked to join in a search for him. Soon the news spread from Weymouth Landing to Neponset and from Hough's Neck to Milton that a boy was lost. Hundreds scoured the woods during the afternoon, while all the waterways were examined in the belief that perhaps the boy had fallen into the water. A squad of police was detailed to conduct the searching parties.

Last night the Boston police informed the Quincy police that they had picked up a lad answering young Padman's description Saturday evening in Dorchester, and that he had been sent to the Chardon Street Home.

He was delivered to his parents late last evening.

The boy's explanation of his disappearance was that he had gone to the square to watch the fire wagon play and had followed the fire wagon to the apparatus house. He then fell in with some big boys, who were bound for Neponset. He was wandering Bostonwards when a policeman found him.

ALIENATION SUIT

Lawyer Blames Wife's Relatives

NEW YORK, June 19.—Alleging that his wife's uncle, her brother and two sisters conspired to induce her to leave him, John C. Devereux, a lawyer of New Orleans, has filed a portion of his time in New York, has instituted a suit for $200,000, alleging alienation of affections against S. Charles Welsh, a jeweler, of No. 256 Broadway, his wife's uncle; William D. Welsh, her brother, and Edith M. and Florence Welsh, his daughters.

In his complaint Mr. Devereux says he met his wife while visiting Asheville, her home. After a short courtship they were married, in 1904. They lived happily together, he says, until a year ago, when Mrs. Devereux left him taking her youngest children, a boy and a girl, with her.

Mr. Devereux says the relatives of his wife worked on her mind to so great an extent that she was driven to the verge of nervous prostration. They induced her to sign away all her property and place her in a trust so as to be out of his reach.

PRESIDENT TAFT

RECEIVED A LETTER FROM COL. ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, June 20.—President Taft has received a letter from Theodore Roosevelt. It had an English postage stamp on it and very likely came on the same steamer with the ex-president. Those who saw Mr. Taft at the White House yesterday came away and "in strict confidence" told the secret to others, who, of course had to have discreet assistance in keeping it. So it became known all over town. At the White House all that was learned was that such a letter had been received.

Those who think they know what was in it, say that it was "merely a friendly reply to a friendly letter."

The letter was sent by Mr. Taft so that it reached Mr. Roosevelt just before he sailed from England. Both the president and the ex-president are said to have been comparatively long and warmly of personal character, largely avoiding political and official questions—in short just such letters as would naturally pass between two old friends such as the two men have been to each other for years.

Those who really know what was in the letters will not tell.

BOYS' BRIGADE

OF FIRST TRINITARIAN CHURCH WENT INTO CAMP

Company F, Fifth Mass. Boys' brigade of the First Trinitarian Congregational church, to the number of 60 went into camp on Saturday for the day. The company left the church in Dutton street, at 8.45 a. m., under the command of Capt. George H. Upton. The boys looked well in their new uniforms and marched with precision to Camp Hutton at 1530 Gorham street, which they reached at 9.30 a. m. After inspection and drill in the broad field on the banks of the Concord river, baseball was the order of the day for four teams, and at noon the hungry boys ate a hearty dinner. The thunder storm drove them to protection. Finally there was an exhibition drill in front of the residence of Mr. George L. Hutton, who made a brief address to the boys, complimenting them on their fine appearance. Rousing cheers were given for Mr. and Mrs. Hutton. The company returned in the afternoon to the church, where the guns and uniforms were left in the new armory. William Mosheim made an efficient first sergeant. Sergt. Bowers of Co. G, and Rev. George P. Kengott were in charge.

MOLLY VARNUM CHAPTER

The members of Molly Varnum chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, were entertained Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Lambert and Mrs. Helen Lambert at the Lambert residence in Pawtucket street.

A varied entertainment program was carried out and the affair proved to be an enjoyable one. Phonograph selections were given during the early part of the afternoon after which Rev. J. E. Gregg, pastor of Kirk Street church, addressed the chapter on the subject of "A Safer Fourth." He made several suggestions for a safe and sensible celebration in Lowell, and also read programs that have been suggested or used in other cities. Refreshments were served, the following ladies assisting the hostesses: Mrs. E. T. Rowell, Mrs. George F. Richardson, Mrs. Franklin Nourse and Miss Webster.

EIGHTEEN PERSONS POISONED

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 20.—Eighteen people were suffering from ptomaine poisoning yesterday, two of them being in a serious condition, as the result of eating food served Saturday night at a lawn party given by the Ladies Aid society of the Edgewood Congregational church. Over 150 attended the church party and it is feared that the number of cases will be increased. The trouble was caused by a chicken salad which it is thought was made from cold storage chickens.

The most serious afflicted are Col. Arthur V. Warfield, of the governor's staff and daughter, Mrs. Warfield also being poisoned. The pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. John Hale Larry, and wife and Dr. W. E. Burge and daughter were also among the victims.

WAS NOT INJURED

Fair Rider Thrown from Horse

WASHINGTON, June 20.—That an invitation from the president is equivalent to a command was disproven by a young woman yesterday afternoon when Mr. Taft invited her to take a ride in his auto. The president, however, did not feel that he had suffered a rebuff as the invitation had been extended merely in a desire to assist.

Accompanied by his aide, Captain Butts, the president was taking a spin in his car. As they drew near a young man and young woman who were on horseback, the mount of the latter stumbled and fell, throwing its rider. The captain sprang from the machine and ran to her aid, the president anxiously looking on to see if she had been hurt. He proffered the use of his machine, suggesting that the young woman allow him to send her home. She declined, saying she would remount. The captain and her escort assisted her back into the saddle where she eyed him narrowly for a moment. Again the president tendered the use of his car but again the young woman declined the offer and presently was herself again. She and her escort then rode off without the president or captain knowing whom they had aided.

A SAFER AND SANER FOURTH ASSURED

M.U. ODD FELLOWS

Held Memorial Service and Visited Cemetery

Excelsior, Integrity, Wamesit and Merrimack Valley lodges, Manchester Unity, Odd Fellows, held memorial services for their former comrades yesterday. In the forenoon the members attended the services at the First Congregational church, where a sermon appropriate to the occasion was delivered by Rev. B. A. Willmott, pastor of the church.

REV. BENJAMIN A. WILLMOTT

In the afternoon the members visited Westlawn cemetery where the Manchester Unity burial lot is located and services were held there.

The members headed by the National band, H. A. Griffiths leader, marched to the cemetery. At the cemetery besides the members were a number of relatives and friends of the deceased members who assisted in the service.

The exercises were opened by Rev. J. T. Carlson, who read prayer after which the hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung.

The L. O. O. F., M. U. burial services were next conducted by Dr. Leith. After a selection by a quartet, Rev. J. M. Craig, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, gave an address on the observance and the importance of remembering the departed. After the singing of the hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," Rev. Mr. Carlson spoke briefly and then salutation in silence was led by Chief Marshal Hudson. The services were brought to a close with benediction by Rev. Mr. Craig.

The chief marshal of the parade was William Hudson. The committee on arrangements consisted of: Chairman, J. Buchanan, of Merrimack Valley lodge; secretary, R. W. Hollingworth, of Excelsior lodge; treasurer, J. Sugden, of Merrimack Valley lodge.

The joint committee of the lodges was composed of:

Excelsior, P. G. R. Hollingworth, Brothers Ingham, Bamford, Whiteside, Blackburn.

Integrity—Past Grands Hudson and Mackley, Brothers Boutiller, Hoshorn and McGrath.

Wamesit—P. G. Bowles; Brothers Fernley, Battye, Housnell and Andrews.

Merrimack Valley—Past Grands Sugden, Buchanan and Bostwick; Brothers Whitlock and Honbrook.

POISONED BY SALAD

PAWTUCKET R. I., June 20.—Assistant Adjutant General Warfield and his wife and daughter, who were the greatest sufferers of the eighteen persons attacked by ptomaine poisoning here Saturday evening, were feeling much improved today and no serious results are anticipated. The poisoning is attributed to a chicken salad which was served at a lawn party at the Edgewood Congregational church on that evening.

SEN. BOURNE TO SPEAK

CHICAGO, June 20.—It was announced here yesterday that Jonathan Bourne Jr., United States Senator from Oregon, and Winston Churchill, of Cornish, N. H., will address the legislative conference to be held at Peoria, Ill., June 27 and 28. Senator Bourne will speak on "The Oregon plan" of electing federal senators, and Mr. Churchill will discuss the "short ballot."

The Peoria conference was called by public spirited citizens following recent disclosures of corruption in the Illinois legislature.

The conference will seek to devise ways and means of breaking the rule of corrupt interests in the state government.

C. F. Keyes will hold a FURNITURE SALE at his commission rooms, old B. & M. Depot, on THURSDAY, June 30th. This will be the last Sale until September. Parties having furniture to dispose of should enter it on or before June 26th.

LAWRENCE MAN

Says He Saw a Man Jump From Bridge

LAWRENCE, June 20.—The police were notified early yesterday morning that Charles A. Boyer of 44 Parker street had seen a man disappear over the railing of the footpath on the Boston & Lowell railroad bridge, above the Merrimack river, as he was crossing about 12.15. Boyer was walking on the sleepers and saw the man leaning against the railing near the center of the bridge. Suddenly the figure disappeared and there was a splash in the water and a cry.

Boyer could not tell whether the man jumped over, but the height of the falling would tend to preclude a theory of accident, unless the man attempted to climb over the fence, being confused as to his whereabouts. It is the custom with some to walk over the bridge on the footpath, and on reaching the north bank to scale the railing on the track side and walk through the train shed on the sleepers to avoid climbing the long flight of stairs, which are included in the path over the roof of the shed.

Boyer hastened to the south end of the bridge and told some trainmen of what he had seen. The police were notified, but no trace of the man who disappeared could be found.

BOY DROWNED

ON THE EVE OF HIS GRADUATION

HOLYOKE, June 20.—While swimming across Hampton pond yesterday Walter Telfs, aged 14, suddenly threw up his hands and sank to the bottom. Young Telfs was subject to epileptic fits and it is believed he was taken with one of these, as he was a good swimmer.

One hundred pleasure seekers at the pond saw the boy sink and several women became hysterical.

James H. Kennedy, an employee of Shedy's theatre, dived after the body and brought it to the surface about half an hour later. Young Telfs was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. A. Telfs of 12 Willow street, and was to have been graduated from the Elmwood grammar school tonight.
